INSURGENTS CUT OFF MADRID'S HIGHWAY LINK WITH VALENCIA

Rebels Claim to Have Isolated Capital City From Seat of Government After Four-Day Offensive—Authorities Plan to Make Malaga Into Important Fascist Naval Base

WITH INSURGENTS, OUTSIDE MADRID, Feb. 9 (AP).—General Francisco Franco's insurgent troops announced tonight they had severed Madrid's last important highway communication line, the Valencia road, in a bloody conflict with defending forces today. (Madrid dispatches said the Government troops had withstood an insurgent attack on the road).

Storming Government trenches around the highway about ten miles southeast of Madrid, Foreign Legionnaires and Moors—who repeatedly have been the main power in insurgent attacks—drove the Government troops in retreat and killed at least 800, insurgent officers said.

FOUR-DAY DRIVE

The assault was the climax to a four-day push to break Madrid's strongest link with the present Government headquarters at Valencia, on the Mediterranean coast.

Along the highway supplies had poured into the beleaguered city, while civilian refugees had streamed out toward safer Government territory.

A drizzling rain, which at times became snow, made little streams of water on the cold ground as the insurgents, spurred by their southern army's capture of Malaga, battled desperately for the important victory.

MANY CASUALTIES

Government soldiers, as they fled, left hundreds of bodies.

Neutral observers predicted the cutting of the Valencia highway and the capture of Malaga might mean Madrid would not hold out much longer.

ITALIAN NAVY PLAYED PART

Charge Made by Spanish Government of Aiding Fall of Malaga

VALENCIA, Feb. 10 (AP).—The Spanish Socialist Government early today flatly charged the Italian navy with playing an important role in the fall of Malaga.

A note issued following upon a special Cabinet session last night accused Italian warships of "manoeuvring in such a way as to deceive loyalist vessels hurrying to aid the city, causing the latter to use up fuel and preventing them from reaching their objective." The Government termed the alleged intervention of Italian ships "the climax of a long series of direct acts supporting the rebels (Fascist insurgents) and making a mockery of the (international) non-intervention agreement."

TO REDOUBLE EFFORTS

"The only effect on the Government and the people is to make them resolve to redouble their efforts and not cease until victory is won."

"Foreign intervention will not shorten the war," the note warned, "it will lengthen and intensify it, placing the peace of Europe each day nearer the abyss."

Outlining the alleged Italian warship intervention, the note said six destroyers left Cartagena as the advance part of the Socialist fleet to combat the insurgent cruisers Canarias, Baleares and Almirante Cervera, which, with several auxiliary vessels, were cannonading the Malaga shore.

DECEIVING MANOEUVRES

At 1:50 p.m. Sunday, while the destroyers watched carefully for a cordon of foreign submarines spread along the route, two vessels ap-

HOUSE AFFAIRS MOVE SWIFTLY

Estimates Disposed Of—Minister of Agriculture's Resolution Passes

OTTAWA, Feb. 9 (AP).—Activity in the House of Commons proceeded at a swift pace today with the estimates of two departments disposed of and progress registered on important Government measures.

External Affairs estimates and those of the Secretary of State were adopted with little controversy, although from some quarters there was criticism against expenditures for the upkeep of foreign legations.

Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, obtained passage of his resolution providing for continuation of the work of farm rehabilitation for the next three years, and introduced a bill which will be debated Thursday.

NO SPECIAL COINS

Mrs. Martha Black (Cons., Yukon), urged the Government to mint 1,000,000 silver dollars to commemorate the Coronation. Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, said it was possible silver coins would be out before the Coronation bearing the image of George VI, but no special issue was contemplated.

Home improvement loan legislation passed through the committee stage after Mr. Dunning had moved several amendments arising from suggestions made during the debate. The bill, which sanctions the loan system in operation since November 1 last, now stands for third reading.

ONTARIO FLOODS FOLLOW RAINFALL

Torrential Downpour Causes Ice Break-Ups and Jams in Several Districts

TORONTO, Feb. 9 (AP).—Flood conditions caused by torrential rains which continued almost forty-eight hours, caused ice break-ups in many Ontario rivers tonight, and jams which followed sent waters piling over banks.

Waterloo County felt the brush of flood waters more than any other district, but Wellington County was also affected for a time.

Several streets were inundated at Walkerton by flood waters of Silver Creek. Several Waterloo residents moved from their homes when Waterloo Creek rose to unprecedented levels.

Delegation of Arabs To Contest Findings Of Royal Commission

Committee of Leaders Who Sponsored Recent Six Months' Strike in Palestine Will Name Delegates to Go to London

JERUSALEM, Feb. 9 (AP).—Findings of the Royal Commission which investigated Jewish-Arab disorders in Jerusalem will be contested by an Arab delegation to London, it was announced tonight.

Arab leaders, making the announcement, said they expected the commission to favor the Jews in its report on last year's general strike and resultant rioting in protest against Jewish immigration.

TO HOLD CONFERENCE

The Arab higher committee, which sponsored the six months' strike announced conference would be held soon to name the London delegation. This group, Arab leaders said, would urge quick application of any pro-Arab findings of the Royal Commission, which recently closed three months of hearings and returned to England.

Members of the Arab group charged that pro-Arab findings of previous commissions were ignored by the British Government.

British Shipyards Filling Big Orders

The shipbuilding yards on the Tyne are enjoying a wave of unusual prosperity, and it is estimated that contracts of a value of over $100,000,000 are being carried out. Though much of the work is being done for the British Admiralty, there are many commercial orders on hand. This photograph shows a huge oil-tanker under construction.

Air Liner Crashes Into San Francisco Bay With Eleven Persons Aboard

Fate of Passengers Unknown but All Feared Dead in Accident

SEARCHERS FIND NO TRACE OF WRECKAGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9 (AP).—A big United Air Lines plane, speeding eleven persons here from Southern California, crashed into San Francisco Bay tonight and disappeared beneath its waters, scoured in vain within an hour by searchers.

The speedy, twin-motored craft fell a quarter or half mile off the shores of the airport which was its destination, said an eye-witness, and apparently sank as it hit with a rending crash.

NO WRECKAGE FOUND

Coast guard boats from San Francisco and Oakland sped to the scene, but nearly two hours after the ship fell, shortly before 9 o'clock, the wreckage had not been located.

Air line officials said the plane, piloted by the veteran Tommy Thompson, asked for and received landing instructions by radio at 8.44 p.m.

The ship came in a little too high.

Predicts New Fast Ships on Run to Australia in Near Future

OTTAWA, Feb. 9 (AP).—Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, during his Empire tour last Winter, "made valuable contact for Canada with the Commonwealth," Sir Percival Pease, deputy premier of Queensland, said on his arrival here tonight. He predicted one of the results of Mr. Bennett's visit would be that in near future there may be new twenty-knot steamers plying between Canada and Australia. He said he had been given to understand the new ships would cost about $5,000,000.

At present, he said, the service is maintained by two steamers with a speed of only fifteen knots. A Japanese company maintains a service of twenty knots.

Union Threatens To Tie Up B.C. Ships in Seattle

Organizer Says Canadian Ships Will Be Picketed Until Branch of Inland Boatmen Organized in Vancouver—One Coastal Steamer Already Strike-Bound in Puget Sound Port

SEATTLE, Feb. 9 (AP).—Capt. John M. Fox, international organizer for the Inland Boatmen's Union, announced here tonight his union would tie up and picket all British Columbia ships as fast as they arrived in American ports.

Captain Fox, also secretary and business manager of the Masters, Mates and Pilots' Union local and the Ferry Boatmen's Union of the Pacific, said his union would continue to picket ships whose owners sent them into American waters and still "continues to fight organization efforts of our union's branch in Vancouver, B.C."

WILL BE TIED UP

Fox said the freighter Eastholm, bound for Portland, and the coastal vessel Rochelle, bound for San Francisco, would be tied up as soon as they reached port.

The freighter Northholm was strike-bound in Seattle. Longshore-

Dynamite Is Used to End Flood Threat

CANMORE, Alta., Feb. 9 (AP). — Dynamiting operations on the Bow River here brought another drop tonight in water lapping around the residences of twenty families in the "Horseshoe Island" district.

The danger point had passed, residents thought.

No additional families were evacuated today and several of the families who had left their homes returned. They were living in the upper stories, abandoning the flooded ground floors.

FLOOD DANGER IS LESS ACUTE

Improved Weather and Receding Waters Bring Joy in Mississippi Section

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 9 (AP).—Dying winds, bright weather and falling water relieved anxiety of Mississippi dwellers above Memphis today and cheered downriver levee workers preparing for approaching flood crests.

The peak of the torrent apparently was passing here. For ten hours the level of the river remained nearly constant, after climbing to record heights.

A twenty-four-hour battle with winds that drove combing whitecaps against the already taxed levees, appeared won.

Downstream, Helena, Ark., and Vicksburg, Miss., braced for the crest of the flood. Mississippi backwater, pushing up the mouth of the Yazoo Rivers, inundated a large lowland area there and sent refugees into Vicksburg.

KIDNAP SUSPECT HELD AT SEATTLE

Police Refuse to Divulge Name of Man Questioned About Slaying of Mattson Boy

SEATTLE, Feb. 9 (AP).—Shielding his identity except to reveal that he is a former convict, city, state and federal detectives questioned a man here tonight in connection with the Mattson kidnap slaying.

The man, authoritative sources said, was arrested upon orders from William Cole, chief of the Washington State patrol, who rushed from Olympia to participate in the questioning.

Where the arrest took place was not revealed, although it was reported to have been in Southwest Washington, in the general vicinity of Tacoma, where ten-year-old Charles Mattson, the kidnap victim, was snatched from his home December 27 by a dark-visaged man.

FORTIN SCHEME MAY REDUCE CITY'S ANNUAL DEBT CHARGES

Toronto Financial Expert Proposes Saving of a Minimum of $598,792 Per Year Through Issuing 4.5 Per Cent Forty-Year Debentures To Replace Portion of Bonded Debt

Principal Would Be Paid Through Buying In Bonds

ANNUAL debt charges lightened by a minimum of $598,792, provision for issuing 4½ per cent forty-year debentures to replace part of the city's $18,078,884 bonded indebtedness, repayment of principal by purchase of the new debentures, preservation of credit, and maintenance of the city's reputation as a debtor willing to recognize and meet its obligations are contained in the Jules E. Fortin plan announced yesterday morning by Mayor Andrew McGavin and the City Council after a conference with Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance.

Mr. Fortin is the representative of a committee composed of Toronto interests holding a large amount of Victoria bonds. His recommendations are the result of a visit to Toronto in November, 1936, by ex-Mayor David Leeming; Charles S. Henley, city fiscal agent, and D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller and treasurer. Early last December Mr. Fortin made a thorough survey of financial and physical assets of the city in order to draw up a report satisfactory to the interests he represents.

The council finance committee, headed by Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter, was unanimous in its opinion to accept Mr. Fortin's recommendations when it was learned no better deal for debt adjustment could be obtained. Members of the committee will move the plan be accepted at the next regular council meeting.

BOND CONVERSION

According to the Fortin plan, the city's debt issues with an interest rate of 4½ per cent would be carried at existing rates for forty years. Issues over 4½ per cent could be carried at that rate until maturity and then converted into 4½ per cent bonds for the remainder of the period between their maturity and 1976, or they could be immediately converted into 4½ per cent bonds with the city utilizing its sinking fund holdings to pay off in cash the difference between the lower rate and the amount bondholders would accrue by retaining the higher rate issues until maturity.

Creation of a new fund to be built up annually for retirement of new issues is suggested. It would be administered by three trustees, one appointed by the city, one by the Chief Justice of the Province,

Gas Mask Party Latest Novelty For Social Set

LONDON, Feb. 9 (AP).—The Government helped out today in London's newest social wrinkle—"gas mask parties." Authorities, trying to interest everybody in air defence plans, loaned hundreds of gas masks to go with the attractive gowns of guests at an "at home" to be given Friday by the Mayoress of Wimbledon, Mrs. G. Farquharson.

HAS RANK OF COUNSELLOR

Australian to Join Staff of British Ambassador in Washington

LONDON, Feb. 9 (AP).—The Foreign Office announced tonight that the Australian Government is establishing diplomatic representation in the United States.

The announcement stated that the United Kingdom Government had agreed to the attachment of a member of the staff of the Australian Department of External Affairs to the staff of the British Ambassador in Washington with the rank of counsellor.

The first occupant of the post will be Frank Keith Officer, for the past three years Australian external affairs officer in London.

FOR DIRECT CONTACT

It was expected Australia is adopting in this case, with the necessary modifications, the system she has employed for more than twelve years for direct contact with the Foreign Office in London.

Sir George Pearce, Australian Minister for External Affairs, announced recently that Australians would be attached to four British embassies abroad as diplomatic liaison officers. The Washington step is apparently the first move to carry out the plan.

Officer is forty-seven years old

OTTAWA, Feb. 9 (AP).—Senator J. W. de B. Farris, of Vancouver, was introduced in the Senate tonight by Hon. Raoul Dandurand, Liberal leader, and Senator J. H. King (Liberal, Victoria).

The new Liberal Senator, appointed a few days before opening of Parliament, succeeded the late Hon. Charles McDonald, of Vancouver. Before his presentation to Speaker Walter E. Foster, Senator Farris signed his declaration of qualification and took his oath of allegiance.

Premier T. D. Pattullo, of British Columbia; Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence; Gordon Sloan, Attorney-General of British Columbia, and several members from Pacific Coast constituencies were in the galleries to see their fellow British Columbian take his seat.

MAY HAVE DIED IN SNOWSLIDE

Two Men Missing in Colorado Mountains—Three Others Found Safe

DENVER, Feb. 9 (AP). — Colorado's snow-gorged Rocky Mountains held secret tonight the fate of two men missing since last week-end.

Searchers pushed through heavy snow—thirty feet deep in places—above timberline on Berthoud Pass, where Joseph Oppenheimer, thirty-six, automobile appliance company official, and John S. Oberdorfer, twenty-two, a bookkeeper, were last seen just before heavy snowslides crashed down the mountainside on Sunday.

THREE FOUND SAFE

Just below timberline, on 10,240-foot Georgia Pass, in Central Colorado, a Denver mining promoter and two companions, who dropped from sight late on Saturday while en route to inspect a mine, were found safe in a tiny cabin.

An airplane flew over searchers, who, on skis and snowshoes, were combing the Berthoud Pass area. Fear was expressed Oppenheimer and Oberdorfer, last seen as they shot down the mountainside while skiing on Sunday, may have been buried under a snowslide.

Pope Decides To Take Part In Services

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 9 (AP).—Pope Pius XI, hoping soon to regain use of his legs, made plans tonight to participate in Holy Week services of the Lenten season which begins tomorrow.

Regardless of whether he will be able to walk, the Pontiff told his aides he wanted the services to be conducted as usual and that he would take part as his illness permits.

The Pope rested today after a troubled night and the pain in his legs bothered him only occasionally.

Government Marks Time on Dispute Over Health Plan

Doctors Ask Ministry Point Blank to Postpone Health Insurance Scheme Until It Can Be Remodeled—Dr. Weir for Larger Measure

NO formal decision was reached by the British Columbia Cabinet yesterday, at a two-hour meeting in which health insurance was discussed. Acting Premier Hart presided, but intimated he had nothing to announce. Absence of Premier Pattullo, Attorney-General Sloan and Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, founder of the scheme, appeared to be staying the Cabinet's hand. Postponement of the whole scheme until it can be placed in better position was publicly asked by the doctors during the day. The Government's answer has yet to come.

The only member of the Cabinet who referred to the impasse between the medical profession and the B.C. Health Insurance Commission was Dr. Weir, who, though unable to attend the meeting of the executive, issued a written statement though Dr. H. M. Cassidy, Director of Social Service. This statement read, in part:

"I do not desire to comment upon the present controversy between the Health Insurance Commission and the medical profession. It is the responsibility of the Commission to work out arrangements for doctors services under the Health Insurance Act."

Dr. Weir's statement declared that in 1935 the Province and the municipalities combined spent $365,-

SPEED LAW OF COURT REFORM

U.S. Administration Leaders Hurrying Legislation Dealing With Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP). — United States Administration leaders will seek quick House passage tomorrow of two of the less-controversial principles embodied in President Roosevelt's proposed reorganization of the Supreme Court.

Representative Sumners (Democrat, Texas) said he would call up for debate and passage his bill to permit the Supreme Court justices to retire on full pay after reaching the age of seventy. This would dovetail with the President's proposal to name an additional justice for each one past seventy who refused to retire.

APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

If time permitted, Sumners added, he also would bring up so-called "speed-up" legislation which was approved today by the judiciary committee which he heads. This would authorize the Attorney-General to participate in lower court cases between private parties, where a constitutional question was involved. It also would give him the right to appeal directly to the Supreme Court from an adverse District Court ruling. Private appeals would not be granted this privilege.

FORTY STRIKERS APPEAR IN COURT

Submit to Arrest Without Disorder at Calgary—Must Attend Again Today

CALGARY, Feb. 9 (AP).—Free on their own recognizance, but billed to appear in police court again tomorrow afternoon, forty "sit-down" strikers from the Union Meat Packing plant here were released late today after a preliminary hearing.

They were arrested after they failed to heed summonses to appear in court this morning.

No disorder marked the two-score arrests. The men marched from the plant, where they have stayed, day and night, since last Thursday, when the court warrants, charging intimidation, were read by a police inspector

B.C. Government Will Not Oppose Victoria Scheme

Refunding on Fortin Plan Would Be Ratified by Legislation, If Necessary Consent Secured, City Council Delegation Informed—Indedependent Board of Three Trustees

SUBJECT to the city and bondholders agreeing to the plan, the British Columbia Government yesterday promised legislation to ratify the Fortin refunding scheme, if it should hold a fifth session. The Province, however, accepted no responsibility for the scheme, merely waiving provincial rights in respect to the trusteeship of sinking funds and in othed respects.

This decision was announced by Hon. A. W. Gray, Minister of Municipal Affairs, after a Victoria City delegation, led by Mayor Andrew McGavin, had conferred with him and with Acting Premier Hart at the Legislative Buildings. As the Victoria scheme would be outside of the new refunding provisions of the Municipal Act, special legislation would be necessary. If at that time the present administration is in office, it will ratify the plan, the delegation was told.

STAY FOR FUND

The scheme as outlined to members of the Government proposed a three-year stay in the provision of sinking funds, refunding of city loans at their maturity, with renewals at a fixed rate of interest, the creation of an independent board of trustees to supervise investment of sinking funds and technical details.

The independent board of trustees of three persons would be variously appointed, one by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, one by the bondholders, and a third, possibly, from the courts, Mr. Gray intimated.

If the City Council agrees to the plan, and if 51 per cent of the bondholders consent, the Province stands ready to sanction enabling legislation. To do this, the Province is prepared to waive general provisions in the Municipal Act, wherein sinking funds of refunding municipalities must be set up with the Provincial Treasury, Mr. Gray said. A separate act would be necessary.

The delegation included Mayor Andrew McGavin, Aldermen Dr. J. D. Hunter, John A. Worthington, W. L. Morgan, Edward Williams, Comptroller D. A. Macdonald, Solicitor H. S. Pringle and John Baxter, Mayor's secretary. The merits of the Fortin scheme were not discussed, provincial ministers said.

Heavyweights Beat Lightweights

—Photograph by Associated Screen News.

As the result of wagers made at a recent meeting, when two corpulent members of the Victoria Kiwanis Club challenged any two lightweights "in the audience" to a saw-bucking contest, the Crystal ballroom of the Empress Hotel resounded with the hum of the backwoods yesterday at noon. The above photograph was taken while Kiwanian William Luney and Kiwanian Brooke Stephenson were about half-way through the log. Fred M. McGregor, also a Kiwanian and a "builder" is seated on the log apparently as a steadying influence. Seated in the rear are Murray Martindale and Ed Mallek, Kiwanian lightweights. The heavies won, the time for Messrs. Luney and Stephenson being four minutes, one and three-fifths seconds, and for Messrs. Martindale and Mallek, four minutes and thirty-five seconds. The terms of the wager were not announced.

KENWRICK—Last Friday at St. Luke's Churchyard, Cedar Hill, there was laid at rest, Ronald Kenwrick, Gordon Head. Rev. S. Ryall, rector of St. Luke's Church, conducted the service. The music was arranged by Miss Helen Riley, who played Beethoven's "Funeral March," while school and college friends carried the casket from the church to the grave. RESIGNATIONS ARE ACCEPTED

Victoria Presbytery of United Church of Canada Concludes Business Sessions

Acceptance of resignations and pastoral changes were the principal matters dealt with at the afternoon session of the Victoria Presbytery of the United Church of Canada in the Metropolitan Church yesterday.

Rev. E. F. Church will leave for Vancouver, where he will replace Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, of Chown United Church, who, in turn, will take Mr. Church's place at the Metropolitan Church. The other resignations accepted were those of Rev. Dr. G. B. Switzer, of Oak Bay United Church, who has accepted a call to West Point Grey United Church, Vancouver; Rev. James Hood, after ten years' service at the Belmont United Church, and Rev. E. W. Horton, assistant minister at First United Church. Dr. Switzer will leave the city at the end of this month.

Rev. M. F. Eby, M.A., who has been superannuated for one year, will return to active ministry, while Rev. A. O. Paterson, who has been retired for one year, will continue in that relation for the next twelve months.

The report on evangelism and social service was introduced by Dr. Switzer, the first clause of which reasserted the church's standpoint on the liquor traffic question. Another clause placed the presbytery on record as supporting health insurance in principle and expressing hope for its early development.

STUDY GROUP PLANNED

A resolution calling for organized group study of the economic principles underlying a Christian social order was submitted by F. W. Davey. Mr. Church reported that the preaching mission, which was provided for last Fall, will probably be carried out early in the Spring by Dean Quainton and himself. Preparatory arrangements will be made in the various churches on the Island.

Rev. R. W. Hibbert, United Church field secretary of religious education for British Columbia, at the morning session called the attention of the presbytery to a convention of the Society of Militant Godless at present being held in Moscow, with some 1,600 delegates from forty-six nations in attendance., for the purpose of spreading atheism throughout the world.

The convention, he said, was envisaging such plans as the erection of a high-powered radio station for propaganda purposes and the establishment of a seminary for the training of missionaries in atheism.

Rev. E. W. Horton led the discussion period and drew attention to the progress being made in the field of adult education.

The session approved the principle of appointing area directors now being put into effect by the Boys' Work Board.

EVENING SESSION

With the presentation of reports at the supper given by the laymen in Spencer's dining-room last evening, and the holding of a social period, the meetings were brought to a close. Arthur Lee presided.

Reports of the missionary and maintenance committee, presented by John Goldie, and the historical committee's report, which Mr. Goldie also submitted at the request of Rev. J. P. Hicks, chairman, and J. A. Petrie's account of the publications report terminated the business of the session.

A slight increase in membership and a very satisfactory financial statement, showing an increase of $8,000 in contributions to the presbytery over last year, were also reported.

Community singing, led by Austin Curtis and Rev. E. F. Church, preceded the evening's business. The chairman then called upon several ministers to relate some brief instances in connection with their work.

Those who spoke were Rev. Thomas Menzies, Koksilah; Rev. Bryce Wallace, Courtenay; Rev. J. A. Petrie, Qualicum; Rev. W. P. Bunt, Nanaimo; Rev. Dr. W. J. Sipprell and others.

The members will again meet in May, when the British Columbia Conference of United Churches is held here.

"This manoeuvre is typical of ships preparing to open fire and led the loyalist vessels to believe they would be attacked by the Canarias and Baleares, whose silhouettes were exactly like the vessels doing the manoeuvring.

"The pair continued manoeuvring, keeping within sight of the destroyers. The destroyers, too, kept within sight, traveling rapidly in wide circles, making them get farther and father away from the place where the real rebel boats were operating."

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP).—The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals announced today that the Royal S.P.C.A. of Great Britain has cabled offers of financial assistance for medication and rehabilitation of animals in the Ohio and Mississippi River flood regions.

CANADIANS AND THEIR INDUSTRIES....AND THEIR BANK

· THE HYDRO-ELECTRIC INDUSTRY ·

Established long before the commercial use of electricity was even dreamed of, the Bank of Montreal has seen the hydro-electric industry rise from its infancy and has provided helpful financial service in every phase of the utilization of water power to industrial and domestic use.

With abundant snow and rainfall on the uplands, and ample reservoir capacity in numerous lakes, Canada is fortunate in having a reliable supply of water power within transmission distance of the principal industrial centres. Only one country, the United States, has a greater total of hydro-electric development.

More than three-quarters of the power equipment used in manufacturing industries in Canada is electric-driven. Seventy per cent. of Canadian homes, urban and rural, are equipped with this "modern servant."

Cheap hydro-electric power has been an important factor in the rapid development of the mining industries. It has been a deciding factor in the refining of base metals from Canadian mines, which only a few years ago was a monopoly of foreign countries. The use of water power has gone hand in hand also with the expansion of the great forest industries of Canada.

The production of hydro-electric power has advanced steadily since the recovery of 1932, reaching new high records each year. The per capita output is exceeded only by that of Norway, yet only one-sixth of the known available water power resources of Canada has been utilized.

Hydro-electric industries and their employees all over Canada find in the Bank of Montreal the convenient and helpful banking service they need.

Annual Reports of Y.W.C.A. Discloses Manifold Activity

Events of Busy Year Reviewed by President and General Secretary Last Evening—Mrs. Rex Eaton, Vancouver, Guest-Speaker

REVIEWING events in a year of almost unparalleled activity which has just come to an end, and outlining plans for the ambitious programme of the next twelve months, reports submitted at the annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association last evening proved unusually stimulating.

Following established precedent, the affair took the form of a dinner in the Y.W.C.A. dining-room, with the president, Mrs. H. M. Cassidy in the chair.

The guest-speaker was Mrs. Rex Eaton, Vancouver. Mrs. Eaton, who is a member of the Board of Industrial Relations, gave an interesting talk on "Social Legislation for Women," the important point in which, so far as its application to local Y.W.C.A. uses is concerned, was the references to the hoped-for establishment of vocational training schools in British Columbia. Should this idea go through, the Y.W.C.A. would have a fresh field of activity in trying to find openings for the girls at the completion of their training. In the meantime there was another important aspect of the work, viz., the working out of a code which would take into consideration the attitude and relations of employer.

Other special guests last night were Alderman J. D. Hunter, who, representing Mayor Andrew McGavin, brought greetings from the city; and Rev. G. R. V. Bolster.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

In her annual report the president, Mrs. Cassidy, expressed satisfaction with the result of the first public appeal made by the Y.W.C.A. for funds to carry on its services. The response was encouraging. The appointment eighteen months ago of a girls' secretary to organize and establish a girls' work department had also proved satisfactory. A third important step had been affiliation with the recently formed Council of Social Agencies, bringing the association into closer co-operation with other social agencies in the city.

Although pleased with the result of the recent financial campaign, the Y.W.C.A. board was convinced of the need of a better method of financing community services, and hoped the move made recently by the Council of Social Agencies to establish a financial federation would be realized soon. The Y.W.C.A. must not be content to rest on its laurels but must move on to new fields of community service. The past year had been one of real progress in organization, finances, and capacity for rendering community service.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

The report of the general secretary, Mrs. W. E. Cushing, was a comprehensive review of the manifold association activities.

A mimeographed statement of this annual report was placed in the hands of each of the 120 guests present, showing the activities of study and recreational groups, vocational training classes, assistance given to meet emergencies due to unemployment, the provision of homelike accommodation for employed girls at moderate cost, the provision of a hospitable meeting place for those without their own homes, assistance of opportunities for character development, assistance to travelers, helping girls in the solution of personal problems. Reference was made to the craft, typing, and household training classes, the reading and current events groups.

"Through membership in the Victoria Y.W.C.A., we are included in the fellowship of over one million women and girls in fifty-six countries. Membership signifies our willingness to share in the united purposes of Christian citizenship and in real service to the community," Mrs. Cushing noted.

FINANCES SOUND

Mrs. Alex T. Stewart, the treasurer, reported revenue for the year amounting to $24,251; expenditure, $23,662. Operating profit amounted to $588. Depreciation was set at $1,243, and the net loss was quoted as $654. The net outcome of the recent campaign for funds was $4,155.

Dr. Olga Jardine brought the statement of the nominations committee, showing the following had been renominated for a further three years: Mrs. John Baxter, Mrs. Richard Felton, Mrs. A. T. Stewart, Mrs. G. M. Weir; new nominations for three years: Mrs. W. McAskill, Mrs. G. H. Scarrett, Mrs. J. W. Lennox, and, for one year, Mrs. W. N. Gunning (in place of Mrs. John Walker). Officers will be elected at the next board meeting, on Friday.

Miss Edna Teagle, president of the Girls' Council of the Y.W.C.A., brought greetings and told something about the advantages of various group activities to the members. She also announced the inauguration on February 25 of a new series of talks.

OTHER FEATURES

The Girls' Choral Club gave great pleasure to the guests by singing John Ireland's "Evening Song" and an adaptation of the chorus "School Days."

The tables were prettily decked with bowls of daffodils, and an excellent repast was served before the business session began. Both the president, Mrs. Cassidy, and the secretary, Mrs. Cushing, expressed deep thanks to the members of the board, the staff, and numerous friends who had helped to make the year such a successful one.

Mrs. Allon Peebles thanked the guest-speaker, Mrs. Eaton, who had so sympathetically and at the same time so ably discussed the question of the inexperienced or only partially-trained woman forced into the labor market by circumstance, and the great need demonstrated for vocational training classes. Mrs. Peebles also thanked Alderman Hunter and Mr. Bolster.

DOCTORS URGE NEED OF CARE

Health Officers Suggest It Is Unwise to Arrange Large Social Gatherings

At a meeting of the Victoria and district public health officials yesterday it was deemed advisable to issue the following statement:

"The continued inclement weather has contributed to the prevalence of influena and catarrhal col'. While this prevalence is not apparently severe enough to call for public alarm, it is felt necessary again to remind the community of the need for reasonable precaution. There is no intention at the moment to bar public gatherings of any kind as it is not considered necessary to institute such drastic measures, but it is unwise to arrange large social gatherings, particularly dances, at the present time.

"It is urgent that any adult with even a suspicion of a common cold or early symptoms of influena should refrain from attending any public gatherings, and it is equally urgent that parents keeping children away from school because of such premonitory symptoms, or on any other account, should keep them more or less at home and certainly not allow them to go to picture shows.

"The precautions considered necessary were recently embodied in the statement by the provincial health officer, published in the press and posted in various public places."

Dr. George Hall Named Chief of Medical Staff

Members of the medical staff of St. Joseph's Hospital held their annual meeting and election of officers, when they were guests of the sisters of the hospital yesterday.

The board of management members attending the dinner were: C. H. O'Halloran, K.C.; C. E. Wilson, J. V. Fisher, Alderman James Adam and Alex McDermott.

The dinner guests of honor were: Dr. W. H. Hatfield, Dr. A. S. Lamb, Dr. A. D. Lapp, Dr. G. F. Amyot, Dr. Frederick Kincaid, Dr. G. F. Kincade and Dr. P. W. Barker.

Executives for the coming year were elected at the business meeting as follows: Chief of staff, Dr George Hall, vice-president, Dr. F. M. Bryant; secretary, Dr. G. F. Aylward.

VANCOUVER ACCLAIMS MEXICAN ENSEMBLE

Glowing tribute to Monday night's performance of the Tipica Mexican orchestra in Vancouver is paid in the following report in The News Herald:

"Entirely different from anything that has been offered in Vancouver before. The orchestra delighted an enthusiastic audience with its intriguing playing of a rhythmic music of Spanish origin. Under the direction of its maestro, David Valles, the orchestra in its colorful uniforms thrilled the listeners with the haunting melodies of the South. Here was humor, simplicity and drama. The most interesting part of the programme, however, was the dancing of Van Hahn and de Negre."

DISCUSS UNITED MUNICIPALITY

Kiwanis Club Members Give Consideration to the Question of Union

The question of unification of Greater Victoria into one municipality was brought before members of the Kiwanis Club yesterday when G. H. Stevens, by request, was asked to introduce the subject. The members in turn offered short suggestions on the questions raised.

Mr. Stevens offered the opinion that anything of a financial unification might be excluded in connection with the subject. That was something that could be worked out somewhat in the same way as local improvements were handled. The surrounding municipalities would not be asked, he suggested, to assume the indebtedness of the city. On the contrary, each part would bear its own present indebtedness. The question was whether in various lines of municipal activities there would be a saving by the adoption of one central governing power.

OPINIONS DIFFER

The opinions expressed were in general in favor of union somewhat along the lines outlined by Mr. Stevens.

Colonel Brooke Stephenson said that, as a taxpayer in Victoria, he found himself to be in favor of the union. As a taxpayer also of Oak Bay, he found himself opposed to the union.

P. A. Gibbs thought that the matter was wrapped up in the financial side, which could not be separated from it. Until the city got down to a mill rate more in keeping with the other municipalities, he could not see how the union could be brought about.

ZONING FOR TAXATION

Zoning for taxation would solve the situation, in the opinion of Harold M. Diggon, who considered there would be great advantages in the move. C. E. Watkins believed that until the municipalities could pull together, they would get nowhere.

C. W. Pangman was of the opinion that overhead expenses in carrying on affairs would be cut down by union, and the move was, therefore, desirable.

Digby's Epidemic Highly Prevalent

DIGBY, N.S., Feb. 9 (CP).—Digby's influenza epidemic entered its eleventh day here today, with the death toll standing at two and doctors reporting the disease spreading to nearby rural districts. Churches, schools and theatres remained closed.

As 1,000 residents battled further spread of the disease, more than 400 people were ill, with not a household unaffected.

AID SOCIETY'S APPEAL NEAR

Example Cited of Manner in Which Wards Are Accorded Assistance

Since the Children's Aid Society is holding its campaign this month, the following little story is of interest as illustrating a very important phase of the society's work—its treatment of the "problem child."

Not so long ago the parents of a difficult child were pitied for having a child who was somehow "born bad," unlike other children, and, therefore, bound to come to no good. As everyone expected the worst from a problem child, they usually got it. No one considered that a child suffering the displeasure of its parents, the contempt of its brothers and sisters, and the censure of the neighborhood, was in a most unnatural and unhappy condition certain to drive it from bad to worse.

The Children's Aid realizes that the "bad" child is often the result of lack of understanding and works in co-operation with the parents to discover the causes of the trouble and the best way of removing them.

THE PROBLEM CHILD

Fanny was a problem child. She had been adopted in babyhood; nothing was known of her real parentage beyond a report that her mother had committed suicide. Fanny's adopted parents were hard-working, self-respecting people whose children were all sons and who had wanted a little girl badly enough to adopt one. Perhaps some of the trouble which developed was due to their lack of experience in dealing with a daughter; at all events, when Fanny was seven years old her adopted parents came to the Children's Aid and admitted they could no longer look after her. She caused friction between the members of the family—antagonized neighbors—created disturbances in school. They confessed that she was quite beyond their control, and that though they knew they were legally responsible for her their home would be broken up if she remained in it.

As a first step, the Children's Aid Society persuaded Fanny's parents to bring her to the child guidance clinic, where it was found that, though she had some slight physical defects, mentally Fanny was a normally bright little girl. Her behavior was attributed to a general misunderstanding, hard to define, but obviously present, between herself and her adopted parents; and it was advised that Fanny should be placed for a time in a carefully-chosen home where her misdemeanors would not be given too much notice; for it was felt that many of her unfortunate habits had been developed because she was conscious of being an outsider in her own home, and chose this means of drawing attention to herself.

SHOWED IMPROVEMENT

Fanny was placed in a family containing children slightly older than herself, and a Children's Aid Society supervisor kept in touch with the foster-mother to discuss any difficulties as they arose. At first all went well. Fanny, being of a friendly disposition, soon established herself in the affections of the family. After a time her old habits began to reappear; but she had learned to value the good opinion of her new friends, and found she could not keep it if she misbehaved.

To be greedy at table lost its zest when she saw how it contrasted with the manners of the others; her desire to be "boss" of all their activities disappeared as she learned the principle of teamwork. Stories of her misconduct at school evoked neither awe nor admiration, but were looked on as the childishness of a little girl with brains to know better. Fanny was astonished, but soon grasped the altered viewpoint—in friendly competition with their school work she did well and so was encouraged to do better.

WORTHWHILE WORK

After eighteen months in her foster home—during which time her own people were kept informed of her progress and the means taken to bring it about—it was felt that her good habits were so firmly established she might return to her former home, where she was joyously received, for in spite of their failure to discipline her, she had never lost their love.

No one who sees Fanny today—a bright, merry girl, liked and welcomed everywhere—could guess how narrow was her escape from the charge of incorrigibility with all it implies. Surely it is a worthwhile work that takes such little children and wisely fits them to fill a happy place in the family and community. And everyone who contributes to the Children's Aid Society has a share in such work.

Pleads Guilty to Further Charges

VANCOUVER, Feb. 9 (CP).—Sydney A. Green, sentenced a week ago at Duncan to six months in jail after purchasing a house, furniture and other goods on worthless cheques, representing he was opening a mill in Cowichan district, pleaded guilty here yesterday on two similar charges and was remanded to Tuesday for sentence.

In one charge, it was alleged Green ordered a piano, two cedar chests and other goods from a Vancouver music house and had them shipped to Port Alice, B.C.

RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Mr. J. S. Woodsworth, leader of the C.C.F. Party, is on definite ground in his attitude towards defence, and, incidentally, in his attitude towards Canada's place in the Empire. He wants this country to avoid any obligations and any commitments where the Empire is concerned, though he is content enough that the Dominion should retain all those rights that are conferred by the Imperial connection. His attitude infers that Canada should withdraw from the League of Nations; and if comment on his stand is to be believed, he would also favor secession from the British Empire. He wants, in effect, strict neutrality in any and all circumstances. He is opposed to the expenditure of any money for the actual defence of this country.

It is well that the standpoint of any political party in the matter of defence should be known. Perhaps there is no political party which has expressed itself so clearly as the C.C.F. Its opinion is not that of the great majority of the people in the country, but then that party is only represented by a handful of members in the House of Commons. It has been a difficult matter in discussing defence to persuade numbers of people that rights involve responsibilities. Mr. Woodsworth would have the latter ignored. We are inclined to believe that at least a percentage of his following does not agree with him.

WASTAGE OF MONEY

There is one phase of parliamentary life, both in Federal and Provincial Legislatures, in which a considerable saving of money could be effected, and that is a reduction in the number of questions asked when legislative bodies are in session. During the present session at Ottawa the Prime Minister has asked the Members of the House of Commons to be more considerate of the public treasury in this respect. Many questions call for considerable research of files and records, and much time is exhausted in the process, while other work has to be shelved. Many questions are devised simply to satisfy idle curiosity, or with the intention of embarrassing the political party in power. There are few cases of questions where the inquirer could not satisfy himself by his own study of public accounts and blue books.

In the suggestion that fewer questions should be asked, no desire exists to restrict parliamentary privileges. One of those privileges is to waste time and money by such a process as asking innumerable questions. In the British Parliament the Speaker passes on questions asked and on the need of their being answered. Obviously a safeguard of the same kind is needed at Ottawa, because, as the Prime Minister pointed out, one question asked would involve a search of official documents from one end of the country to the other, and perhaps the task would occupy several years. Why should public money be wasted in this way?

GENERAL KNOWLEDGE

General knowledge is a useful thing, but it may be translated into too great a strain on the victim who is tested in this way in an examination. The Civil Service Commission at Ottawa recently set an examination paper in general knowledge for the post of "Third Secretary, Department of External Affairs," carrying an initial salary of $2,200 a year. Not only was the paper designed to show actual knowledge, but the candidates had to estimate the results of policies. In fact, the information sought as a whole is not in the possession of an individual within the confines of the Dominion. It even called for knowledge before events. It wanted to drag out prophetic instincts from the candidates. Here are some of the questions, and as a whole they asked the candidates to:

Let observation with extensive view,
Survey mankind from Chinr to Peru.

Discuss the present position and outlook of Parliamentary Democracy.

Discuss the problem of access to raw materials and its bearing on the present international situation.

Outline the principal provisions of the Trade Agreement between Canada and the United States of America, signed at Washington, November 15, 1935, and estimate its economic effects.

Outline the present political situation in Great Britain, or the United States of America, or France, sketching briefly the various parties, their programmes and leading personalities.

Identify in a sentence: Comitern, Chatham House, Comite des Forges; Quai D'Orsay, the Lateran Treaty, "the two hundred familles," Croix de Feu, Frente Popular.

Indicate in a sentence the substance of international agreements signed since the Great War at : Rapallo, Montreux, Nevilly, Trianon, Lausanne, Brest-Litovsk, Stresa, Montevideo, Ouchy.

Name eight states of chief industrial importance with permanent representatives on the Governing Body of the International Labor organization.

What general political point of view or bias would you expect to find expressed in the editorial columns of the following papers: Le Temps, L'Action Francaise, Voikischer Boebachter, L'Observatore Romano, Manchester Guardian, The Observer, N.Y. Herald-Tribune, New York Times.

The other questions demand a similarly wide knowledge, and they are expected to be answered by an individual aspiring to a post with a salary of $2,200 a year. The Ottawa Journal says that it is not a Third Secretary that the Civil Service Commission wants. The successful candidate should have Mr. Anthony Eden's job, or that of Canada's Prime Minister.

NEXT OLYMPIC GAMES

If nothing of a serious nature, such as war, intervenes, the Olympic Games to be held at Tokio in 1840 promise to prove unusually interesting. It may be that they will attract fewer competitors, because of the distance to the Japanese capital, but it is very certain, from the preparations now being made, that the Games at Tokio will have features, amid the setting of a nation renowned for its courtesy, that have not yet attended them. There is the belief in Japan that the Games have certain definite purposes. In Japan, the whole nation is conscious of its responsibility. It is going so far as to promote a study of other languages so that better service will be given to the visitors. There is preparation for improved transportation facilities. Japan, in other words, is going to present the best face to its visitors in 1940.

Japan does not intend to forget the main purpose of the Games, namely to promote international sportsmanship. The Japanese are themselves great sportsmen. They take victory and defeat with smiling faces. Their attitude in this particular should have its effect on the Games, which have been in danger of savoring too much of professionalism because of the money spent in preparation and the rigid courses applied to competitors. They are amateur games, and that is what it was always intended they should be. If this idea can be promoted at Tokio, so much the better. That is a Japanese aim, and on that account the Games when held again may have a definite influence on the future success of the quadrennial event.

DR. J. B. COLLIP

Edinburgh University has added one other to the medical honors that have fallen to the share of Dr. James B. Collip of McGill University by awarding him the Cameron Prize for 1937. Dr. Collip is a member of the medical profession who burns the midnight oil, for he is not satisfied with the role of administrator and director of a department. As well, he engages in a lot of research work, and his latest honor has come to him for "valuable and highly-important additions to practical therapeutics." It was Dr. Collip who, with three other medical men, shared in the discovery of insulin. He has lately been concentrating on the parathyroid hormone, the pituitary gland and the control of growth and development. In his profession he stands high, and because of the recognition he has won, he is among the foremost of Canadians.

Statistics published by the Bank of Canada show that in 1925 the total indebtedness of the Provinces in excess of amounts deposited in sinking funds was $813,000,000. Ten years later the amount had increased to $1,622,000,000, an increase of 99 per cent. It appears to be the rule for the Provinces to continue to go headlong into debt. This explains the repeated visits of Provincial Premiers and Finance Ministers to Ottawa and their camping on the doorstep of the Federal Treasury. If there were but one Government in Canada, many millions of dollars could be saved annually in administration and more millions in traveling expenses.

CLOUD MOUNTAINS

The sky has mountains even as the earth,
And goodlier, soaring crests of curdled snow,
O'er which cerulean shadows come and go.
Cast by the wind and sunshine in their mirth.
There gods of old Olympus seem to grow
To bodily shape by witchery of the light,
And o'er the bastions of a city bright
Bend thoughtful brows upon our world below.
The sky has mountains that the eye can climb;
No need to travel seeking them afar;
To all they come; unbound by space or time
Their beauty dawns to bless us where we are.
Like passing thoughts they fade into the blue—
An hour's sunlight builds them up anew.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

With new dealers ready to speed up civilization, modern invention turning corners on two wheels, and mass production tendencies towards quantity instead of value, there has been a notable lack in the reaction of the general public. As a traffic problem, the public is slow, and will inevitably have to be hurried up to keep pace with our rate of progress.

The other day I suggested motor skates for civil servants, to speed up inter-departmental business, but saner reflection shows that this will be quite inadequate Supplementing what was then said, I beg to propose the following additional means of hurrying the public up, so that we can get on with the business of progress, unfettered by the outworn ideas of 1936:

Escalators—In all public buildings where there are stairs of more than three steps, escalators should be installed, to operate at a minimum velocity of thirty miles an hour. Where there are short flights of three steps or less, springboards can be placed at the base of each step for the take-off; and landing mats beside them for those jumping down.

Pedestrians—Pedestrians must be encouraged to hustle up. Under normal conditions it is clearly retarding our business to walk at a bare four miles an hour on public sidewalks. Motor skates will do quite well for ordinary pedestrian traffic, with minimum speeds of forty miles an hour, and high-velocity special models of fifty miles an hour for messengers, bankers, and clubmen at luncheon time. This alone should work a wonderful improvement.

Street cars—In using street cars, the public should be advised that the cars soon will no longer stop between termini at any point. To board the cars, stand well forward on the take-off platform at each street intersection, and jump into the landing net provided on the starboard side of each car. In alighting the process is reversed, with landing nets at each curb.

Between termini, cars will maintain a uniform speed of sixty miles an hour. Loading at termini will be effected by the hopper plan, passengers dropping down successively through slots in the overhead feeder system. Unloading will be on the dump-car principle, archaic but effective.

Motor cars—No powered vehicle will maintain a rate of less than fifty miles on a public thoroughfare, while outside city limits and apart from school crossings they may travel at a rate of 100 miles an hour, comfortably conscious of assisting progress materially. At school crossings, drivers will watch out for infant children, who sometimes may do less than twenty miles an hour on their miniature power skates.

Public entrances—All public entrances and exits at theatres, churches, departmental stores, crown property and other buildings of considerable size, will be built on the chute principle. The gradient for chutes will not be less than one foot drop for each two feet traveled, and should be steeper than that, to avoid clogging the chutes by backward people. Uniformed officials will stand-by with light power cranes to extract any baulkers.

Reversing direction—In all high speed traffic, unusual care must be taken to see that proper hand signals are given, implying direction or intention of change. At street intersections, of course, the public may use the automatic turntables, which revolve at a bare fifteen miles per hour and so are quite safe for even children to manipulate. Passenger cars may be turned in .327 of a second, and trucks in .342 of a second, when the turntable plan is speeded up, as it will be after the public becomes educated to its advantages.

Inter-floor communication—In all public buildings, and possibly many private buildings as well, of three storys or more, firemen's brass poles must be erected between attic and cellar, through a central well. Landing mats will be deposited close to the side of the shaft at each floor. Use the pole for all trips to a lower floor, by fastening the legs around the pole, and wedging the right hand against the brass pole with the left, on the choker principle. Special lessons will be given at all fire halls until the public is educated in using this ingenious, fast, and noiseless method of descending.

For—suburbanites—I am afraid that motorists may no longer be allowed to drive their airplanes into town, and park there. Central flying field will be arranged in each community, one-half mile from the heart of the city, with an escalator road passing from the field to the city hall. This moving thoroughfare will travel at different speeds, by sectionalization, so that suburbanites may park their planes at the airfield, and come into town at 50, 100, or 150 miles an hour on the escalated highway.

Meals—It seems a pity that the old-fashioned lunch hour must go, but there seems to be no help for it. All citizens using the town must therefore provide themselves with luncheon baskets. For the benefit of those who forget, the state will open food kiosks at each second corner, where food in tablet form may be acquired cheaply. These stores will stock meat pills, sop pills, fish pills, dessert pills, health pills, and everything that could normally be had in a seven course dinned. They must be eaten fast, however, so as to avoid congestion in front of the kiosks.

Time—The division of each twenty-four hours in day and night is now competely outmoded. The state will revert to twenty-four-hour time like the railways, and the citizens will govern themselves accordingly. It must, of course, be remembered, that as this efficiency is all addressed to a one-day working week, with five days for leisure and one day for rest, that on no account may anyone work two days together. It would upset the whole system. In short, to catch up with the recovery, the public must hurry.

Scottish Colliery Workers to Quit

LONDON, Feb. 9 (CP-Havas).—Representatives of 6,000 members of the Scottish Colliery Engine and Boilermen's Union yesterday voted to terminate their contracts with the mine operators at the expiration of a three-month notice.

The vote was taken after the operators refused to accept proposals for improved working conditions submitted by the union.

"MY WORLD OF BOOKS"

Sir,—Your issue of yesterday carried what purports to be a literary survey from me on "My World of Books." True, I gave the gentleman who interviewed me an expression of opinion on authors I have read, but I regret very much if I gave him the impression implied in this contribution. Though I have some acquaintance with Russian literature, neither my friends nor anyone else would believe that my life would ever be long enough to read "all" the authors belonging to the prerevolutionary period. Moreover, like the literature of most other countries, there is much that is good along with much that is not; and my acquaintance reaches only to a small portion of the former class. Needless to say, the same applies to the literature of those other countries whose languages I happen to know.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock, add 18.8 feet to the height of high water as above given.

Congratulations

Congratulations are certainly due to Bill "Torchy" Peden and Doug Peden, Victoria's brother six-day bike racing duo, for their fine victory Saturday evening at Buffalo, N.Y. The triumph is nothing new to the veteran member of the team, but to Doug, the younger of the Pedens, it is the beginning of what should be a brilliant future in the pedal-pushing game to nowhere. Congratulations and orchids, boys, keep up the good work. Victoria, your home town, is proud of your victory, and its citizens, we feel sure, join us in saying "Good luck and continued success in your chosen profession."—S.T.

He Bosses the Davidans

When the House of David basketballers appear at the High School gymnasium, Friday and Saturday evenings, sitting on the bench will be a small but well-built man watching every move his bearded squad makes on the court. He's George Johnson, the team's manager. George is well known here, having made several trips with the Davidans in previous years. Johnson organized the House of David club many years ago and today is one of the best and most capable umpires operating in the American Association Baseball League. He has served twenty-three years in that circuit and sport writers consider him one of the best officials in the business. The major leagues have demanded his services repeatedly, but his strong friendship with the president of the American Association has kept him in the A.A. loop. He has proven his ability countless times in the "Little World Series" and in many Spring exhibition tours with the big leaguers. His brother, Ernie, is a former member of the New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox and is at present chief scout for the Boston Red Sox. At one time he managed the Seattle Indians in the Coast League. This is the seventh season for the whiskered ball-handlers. They average 125 games per season and ninety per cent of them go down in the win column. You watch Johnson on the bench during the games and you will see a pair of the keenest eyes in the gymnasium. That's why he can handle any ball game, no matter how tough it may be. His alertness and impartiality makes him one of the best arbiters in the business.—J.D.

Nothing But the Truth

Truth, they contend is stranger than fiction. Declaring that he quoted truth and truth alone, a visitor from San Diego maintained recently that two men, one a physician, the other a dentist, with the same name and the same initials, met some years ago, and had since shared the same suite of offices. They were not related . . . The same man declared a resident of a Missouri city had a coat made from the bits of fur from his pet Spitz . . . This series of coincidents is reminiscent of the traveler who was halted by a blow-out . . . A clergyman, driving by, offered assistance . . . They swapped names, experiences . . . Eventually found they were father and son . . . Previously they had not met for twenty-odd years.—B.G.

A Contentious Subject

Having manners no better than the next man (that is what the girl friend says), we hesitate to bring up the subject on a suggestion of a friend known as plain Tom. He points out a ma. should not take a woman's arm when walking down the street, nor should one man walk in the centre when accompanied by two women. The woman should always take a man's arm, and a man should walk on the outside. He suggests that policemen touch their helmets in the form of a half-salute when greeting a woman, or answering a question, similar to the practice in England. He also notes that few men alight from a street car first to help women down the steep steps. Since publicity always points out the city as a little bit of Old England, Tom believes a politeness campaign would cause no end of good in teaching the populace to greet visitors in a manner that would make a lasting impression . . . Sitting down beside a passenger in an Oak Bay street car a visitor from Toronto commenced a long harangue on the inclement weather of the past five weeks. He pointed out how he came West to escape Winter, but ran right into a taste of it in the city of sunshine and flowers. All the passenger said was "yes" and "no" when they were called for. Finally the Torontonian remarked: "You have very little to say. You must be a Victorian." The other man grinned. "I'm from Toronto, and I like it here very much," he replied. The conversation abruptly ended . . . We heard Bill, the Broad Street barber, remark that the nights have been so cold he was forced to stay home and get acquainted with the family . . . Our tobacconist friend claims it is easy to tell the difference between genius and talent. It is shown in the pay envelope.—G.B.

DISCUSSES LIFE IN MALAY STATES

Rev. G. R. V. Bolster Delivers Interesting Address to Kiwanis Club

Interesting facts about the little known territory of the Malay States were conveyed to members of the Kiwanis Club yesterday in the Empress Hotel. The speaker was Rev. G. R. V. Bolster, assistant rector of St. John's Church in the city. He was introduced by W. A. Patterson.

Following service in the flying force during the Great War, Mr. Bolster went to the Malay States as assistant police commissioner and as a result of his services there, he gained a very intimate acquaintance with the conditions that prevail.

INTERESTING COUNTRY

Mr. Bolster outlined what he said was one of the most interesting parts of the world. There was a mixture of nationalities found there which provided an ever-fascinating study in human nature. The population was the most attractive in the east. The Malay is the most attractive member of the families met with. These small people with a keen sense of humor were highly praised by the speaker. They were not lazy, but they did object to the rush of the Occidental. They were great natural musicians and a company of them traveled over the territory offering the Arabian Nights' Tales in theatrical performances each year.

The East Indian supplied the labor on the rubber plantations. They also provided the police in the northern section. The Chinese in the country were the coolie class. His experience with them was that they were the straightest business people that he had ever dealt with. The Eurasian, one of the tragedies of the east, was the remaining race found in the Malay States, Mr. Bolster stated.

"I 'ear you've 'ad a slight argument with yer missus, Mrs. 'Iggins."

"Yes, indeed, Mrs. Wiggins. The missus says ter me, 'Mrs. 'Iggins,' she says, 'you've forgot to clean the top step again. You really must try to remember wot I tell yer.' So then I ups and says, 'Beggin' yer parding, mum, but there's so many things wot I must remember not ter forget any'ow, that sometimes I 'ave to forget to remember wot I 'ave ter remember not ter forget, so as ter remember likewise,' I says, after which we hunderstands each other more clearly."

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

(Mr. Culbertson is acting as referee on five hands sent to him by a correspondent. He was asked to fine the players for errors of bidding and play acording to degree. This is the fifth hand of the series.)

Today's hand, the last of the five which I was asked to "judge," involves nothing more than the correct use of asking bids.

The East-West pair reached an unsuccessful slam contract solely through the stubbornness of the "asker." The latter, it is true, held an enormous hand, and, on the first response given by his partner, naturally visualized at least a small slam. But since the partnership was using asking bids, it was hardly more than logical that they should allow these invaluable devices to guide them to the correct contract.

West, dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♣	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
5 ♣	Pass	5 ♠	Pass
6 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

North led the two top clubs and the contract was defeated before it got started.

It would have been more logical for West to have bid six or seven spades over his partner's jump raise than to have pretended to use asking bids and, when the responses did not suit him, go on anyway. It is true that the combined hands contained enormous "duplication of values," but it was precisely for the purpose of discovering such duplication that asking bids were invented. West, with five plus honor tricks, simply refused to visualize any hand that his partner might have justifying a double raise, which would not produce a slam. In point of fact, East's was just such a hand! His double raise had been amply justified by his two and one-half honor tricks and excellent distribution. He hardly could know, at an early stage, that there was so much duplication in the combined hands.

West must have known, since he was smart enough to use the repeat asking bid of five clubs, that he was risking a certain game when he went to six over East's denial of second round club control (when the responder signs off to the first asking bid, his denial may have been due to lack of second round control or lack of an ace, or both. To determine which of these it was, the asker then should make a repeat asking bid, and now if the responder has the king or a singleton in the asked suit but no ace, he bids five no trump. If he has the ace and third round control of the asked suit, he shows the ace. Lacking these values he again signs off). It can only be assumed that West's stubbornness was too great to be denied.

The partnership should have considered itself fortunate in having at its command a device that could locate the "duplication" that made the slam highly enticing, but insecure. West's failure, therefore, to abide by the safety gauge under his nose must be fined the limit—namely: Class D.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of February 10, 1887)

The Cariboo Railway—H. P. Bell, C.E., arrived yesterday evening from Barkerville, having completed the preliminary survey for the Provincial Government of the proposed line of railway to the Cariboo gold fields. He states that it will not be difficult to locate a line that will reconcile all the interests to be served without presenting any constructive difficulties worthy of mention.

New Branch Office—The Bank of British Columbia announce their intention of opening a branch office in Kamloops. The bank proposes to erect a suitable building on the lot adjoining the Sentinel office, on the opposite corner to the court house, and have already plans of the structure under way. They will lose no time in completing the building and hope to be in occupation during April.

The Snow—The snow which fell yesterday afforded excellent sleighing, every turnout in the city being engaged. Skating is at a discount just now, but should the bracing north wind continue, lovers of that healthy sport may yet have a chance to exercise themselves.

Fortin Scheme May Reduce Annual Debt Charges of Victoria

and one by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

MR. FORTIN'S LETTER

In a letter to the City Council, Mr. Fortin pointed out the following facts in favor of his scheme:

"It maintains to the city its reputation as a debtor willing to recognize its obligations and so meritorious of sustained good credit so that its citizens may continue to have available the public and private facilities which they now enjoy.

"It achieves this preservation of credit in a way which lightens the burden of debt charges by a minimum of $598,792, when compared with the 1937 debt charge on the present basis.'

"It enables the city to take advantage of sustained good credit, immediately by drawing, and at the end of ten years from December 31, 1936, without restriction, to retire by call the whole or any part of the then outstanding new debentures without premium and so makes available to it the opportunity of further reducing debt charges without risks to itself.

"It enables the city to provide now for the debentures which it will not be able to retire at maturity at rates of interest not exceeding 4½ per cent, from their present maturity dates to 1976, without risk of market or credit conditions at the time.

"It gives the city the option to repay principal by purchase of new debentures as rapidly as may seem wise to it and so enables it to further reduce debt charges and to take advantage of the additional saving of discounts on purchases."

MR. FORTIN SPEAKS

In giving a brief explanation of his plan before leaving for Vancouver yesterday afternoon on his way to Edmonton, Mr. Fortin made the following statement:

"My plan will enable the city to meet its obligations and may afford a reduction in taxes this year. The city has been underlevying for some years. Contrary to general belief, there is a definite cut in bond interest.

"All bonds bearing a rate of interest higher than 4½ per cent will be reduced to 4½ per cent from the date of their present maturity to termination of an extended term. This, when passed by the council and sanctioned by 51 per cent of the bondholders, will at once become effective. Bonds of 4½ per cent will continue to bear interest at the same rate. Those lower than 4½ per cent will remain at the same rate.

"Under the maturity extension to forty years there will be a decrease in the interest rate on high-coupon bonds from the time they would otherwise mature to the end of their terms.

"The city is given the right at its own option to take advantage of further decreasing rates by paying off bonds ahead of maturity. They will be callable at face value without a premium.

"It may be possible later on to borrow money at 3 per cent and force bondholders to accept payment for their bonds long ahead of maturity. In other words, it is entirely in the city's hands how long it will continue to pay present interest rates. The callable feature is no good unless the city keeps its credit in excellent shape.

NO RISK TO CITY

"If interest rates become lower, there is no risk to the city. If they go higher they will be tied up to paying a maximum of 4½ per cent. It is optional whether the city pays any money into the sinking fund for the next three years.

"There is certainly no odium of repudiation or default in my plan. I feel bondholders will agree to the proposal, but I believe present government legislation will have to be amended to take care of debt refunding by the city.

"With no sinking fund levy for three years, all tax arrears collections would be freed for current purposes. The amount now owing the sinking fund would also be wiped out. The city would have an immediate opportunity to cut interest as low as it wanted to, without premiums attached.

"It will be possible to sell present sinking funds, buy in new bonds, and cancel them. There would not have to be a sinking fund at any time. Bonds would be simply bought in and canceled. With no sinking fund, city debt could be repaid without being subject to the risk of investments held in the sinking fund," Mr. Fortin concluded.

Following is the Fortin plan in detail:

Plan of adjustment of certain debts of the city:

1. The debt to be dealt with is made up of (December 31, 1936):

Debentures	$15,652,660
Capital Bank Loan	536,000
Esquimalt Waterworks	825,000
Waterworks Mortgage	328,224
Treasury Bills	300,000
Panama Pacific Bonds	437,000
Total	$18,078,884

This amount is subject to reduction by the amount of debt paid off since December 31, 1936.

It may also be necessary to deal with the guarantee by the city of a return of 7% on $500,000 per annum for ten years to the Victoria Cold Storage & Terminal Warehouse Co., Ltd., which guarantee is now the subject of court action. The city has also guaranteed one-half of $90,000 bonds bearing interest at 5½% issued by the Board of Cemetery Trustees of Greater Victoria.

TO CANCEL BONDS

2. Of the securities above, those held by the city and its sinking fund at the time the exchange takes place are to be canceled. As of December 31, 1936, the situation was:

	Outstanding	To be Cancelled	Balance to be Outstanding
4%	$ 4,053,737	$ 888,362	$ 3,165,375
4½%	4,580,114	1,192,476	3,387,638
5%	3,246,100	686,000	2,560,100
5½%	2,771,100	194,600	2,576,500
6%	1,001,609	35,000	966,609
Debentures	$15,652,660	$2,996,438	$12,656,222
4½% Bank Loan	536,000		536,000
5¼% Esquimalt Waterworks	825,000	493,885	331,115
4½% Waterworks Mortgage	328,224	-----	328,224
3½% Treasury Bills	300,000	-----	300,000
5% Panama Pacific Bonds	437,000	-----	437,000
Totals	$18,078,884	$3,490,323	$14,588,561

3. Debentures and other debts bearing 6%, 5½% and 5¼% should be valued for their present unexpired term to yield 4½% and be exchanged for new debentures bearing 4½%. Thus this valuation would work out approximately to:

6% debentures premium	$108,095
5½% debentures premium	221,716
5¼% Esquimalt Waterworks	17,317
Total	$347,128

The liquidity of present sinking fund investments is such that it is doubtful whether the city could disburse a premium of that amount at this time. This premium might be covered, however, by the addition to the new bonds of a talon calling for payment of this premium out of the first proceeds of the liquidation of the sinking fund and interest earnings thereon, with interest at 4½% per annum.

This provision is optional to the city.

RATES STIPULATED

4. The remaining debt of $14,588,561 is to be exchanged for new debentures dated December 31, 1936, maturing December 31, 1976, and bearing interest as follows:

3½%	$ 300,000
4%	3,165,375
4½%	8,126,086
5% to maturity and 4½% to 1976	2,997,100
Total	$14,588,561

The above amount of $14,588,561 will be decreased by the total of the debentures in the hands of the public which will have been redeemed in 1937 up to the time the plan takes effect.

AN ALTERNATIVE

If Clause No. 3 is not taken advantage of, the situation will be:

3½%	$ 300,000
4%	3,165,375
4½%	4,251,862
5% to maturity then 4½% to 1976	2,997,100
5¼% to maturity then 4½% to 1976	331,115
5½% to maturity then 4½% to 1976	2,576,500
6% to maturity then 4½% to 1976	966,609
Total	$14,588,561

The effect of No. 3 above and the present provision is that the debentures and other debts are being refunded at their present rates of interest for their present unexpired term and from then on to 1976 at 4½% in the case of those which now bear 4½% or more, and where they bear less than 4½% at their present rates for the full term. The opportunity of taking advantage of decreasing interest rates is preserved to the city elsewhere in this plan.

MAXIMUM COST

To retire this debt of $14,588,561 in forty years, at the maximum rates of interest above, assuming the conversion of the 6's, 5½'s and 5¼'s into 4½'s, requires some $790,206 annually. This annual requirement is the maximum cost to the city. This cost will be decreased by the operation of the following:

(a) The ultimate use of $900,000 face value of other securities in the sinking fund (after paying the premium called for in the plan, as of February 2, 1937) for the retirement of new debentures. This will mean a decrease in annual requirements of some $48,900 pending liquidation of these securities, the use of interest earnings will make available a part of this $48,900, amounting to $36,000 annually.

(b) The reduction in interest to 4½% on present debentures after their present maturities. The maximum saving because of this will amount to $57,649 annually from the time all debentures bearing more than 4½% mature until 1976. Meanwhile, the saving will progress upwards to that maximum.

OPTION GIVEN

(c) The option given to the city to retire by purchase of new debentures for cancellation as quickly as the city makes funds available.

(d) The right given to the city to call in and retire at any time after the plan becomes effective the whole or any part of the new debentures without premium.

(e) The purchase by the city of new debentures at a discount.

Taking 1937 as an example, the plan proposed would make the following comparison with the present charges:

Present charges		$1,352,998
Debt charges under plan, maximum	$790,206
Less sinking fund earnings	36,000
Net maximum		$ 754,206
Decrease in 1937 debt charges		$ 598,792

While it may not be possible, having regard to other aspects of the city's problem, to apply all of this saving in reduction of taxation of real estate, the fact remains that the plan does reduce the 1937 debt charges by a minimum of $598,792, or the equivalent of some sixteen mills on the dollar of 1936 assessment. It should, however, be possible to pass on to the taxpayer some of this saving by the institution of measures of economy and increased sundry revenues.

MAXIMUM CHARGE

The annual requirements of some $790,206 is the maximum annual charge on the city for the full term of forty years and, in comparison with the present 1937 charges, the above saving will continue for the full forty years. It is true that were the city able to retire its debentures in accordance with its present schedule the annual requirements under the present schedule would in the future be less than the requirements under the plan, but it is also true that there is indication that the city will not be able to redeem its debentures in accordance with its present schedule, and hence it will be necessary for it to refund a part of them and so automatically increase what are now its anticipated future debt charges under the present schedule. This aspect of the matter should also be kept in mind when making comparisons between the debt charges, since the plan removes the difficulty with which the city is faced.

5. All new debentures to be issued shall mature in forty years and shall be expressed in the same currencies as those existing debentures and payable in the countries of those currencies.

NO SINKING FUND

(a) In each and every year the city shall make provision, either by tax levy or by contributions from utilities or from other sources, of an amount equal to the sum required to retire the total of such new debentures, by means of equal annual installments of combined principal and interest in forty years with interest at the rates set out in Section 4 above. The city to have the option of providing for interest only during the first three years.

(b) In each and every year the city shall pay out to the debenture retirement fund trustees of the city an amount equal to that part of the annual installment of combined principal and interest which represents principal provided for in that year. Such payments received by the debenture retirement fund trustees shall be used by them in:

(1) The purchase, in the open market or by private or public tender, of new debentures of the city, at a price no greater than their face value and accrued interest. Such debentures so purchased shall be canceled.

REDEEM DEBENTURES

(2) The redemption on any interest date at face value and accrued interest of such debentures as the said trustees may choose by drawing. In establishing such drawing, it shall be the duty of the trustees to redeem new debentures in the order of the maturity of the old debentures which they replaced, to the end that new debentures issued to replace 1937 maturities of old debentures shall be redeemed first, 1938 maturities second and so on. In this connection it will be necessary to number the new debentures in such a way as to preserve their identity in relation to those which they replace.

Redemption shall be duly advertised in a daily newspaper in Victoria, New York, Toronto, Montreal and London, England, once a week for two consecutive weeks, both advertisements to appear at least sixty days prior to the next interest date. Such advertisements shall describe the debentures to be redeemed, the places where such redemption is to be carried out, and state from and after such interest date, interest on the debentures described in the advertisement shall cease to accrue. Debentures so redeemed shall be canceled.

PAY TO TRUSTEES

The city shall have the option to pay out to the said trustees only such part of the provision for principal made by way of a tax levy in any year as is collected during that year; provided that such part as is not collected during the years of levy shall be paid out in subsequent years as collected.

(c) In addition to (a) and (b) above, the city shall have the right to use any moneys whatever to purchase new debentures for concellation. Such moneys shall be paid in to the debenture retirement fund trustees and used by them as set out in section 5 (b) (1).

(d) The city shall have the right on any interest due date to call for redemption, without premium, the whole or any part of the new debentures then outstanding. If, however, a call prior to December 31, 1946, is made for a part of the outstanding new debentures the debentures so called shall be chosen by drawing. Such redemption shall be carried out

TO BE ADVERTISED

Redemption shall be duly advertised in a daily newspaper in Victoria, New York, Toronto, Montreal and London, England, once a week for two consecutive weeks, both advertisements to appear at least sixty days prior to the next interest date. Such advertisements shall describe the debentures to be redeemed, the places where such redemption is to be carried out, and state from and after such interest date, interest on the debentures described in the advertisement shall cease to accrue. Debentures so redeemed shall be cancelled.

6. The debenture retirement fund trustees shall use all diligence in liquidating the assets of the present fund after the cancellation of the city's own securities in the fund as, in their opinion, shall realize for the fund as nearly as possible the face value of such assets. The proceeds of such realization shall be used, as to the capital part thereof for the purposes of and in the manner set out in section 5 (b) (1) and (2) hereof subject to the payment of the premium provided herein and as to the part thereof representing interest, as the council of the city of Victoria may from time to time determine.

ANNUAL INSTALLMENT

7. The annual installment of combined interest and principal shall, at the option of the City Council, as and when deemed necessary, be recalculated to provide for the repayment of the then outstanding new debentures for a term ending 1976.

8. The city shall continue to levy local improvement taxes in accordance with existing by-laws, and to charge to and collect from each of its utilities and the school board such sums as are called for by the existing by-laws under which debentures heretofore issued and remaining outstanding were chargeable to each utility during the currency of such by-laws.

9. There shall be set up a board of debenture retirement fund trustees composed of three members, one appointed by the city, one by the Chief Justice of the province and one by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council. The secretary of the board shall be the treasurer of the city, who shall carry out the directions of the board. Members of the board shall receive no remuneration. They shall be charged with the duty of administering the existing fund and receiving and disbursing moneys in accordance with this plan.

NEEDS APPROVAL

10. This plan shall not become effective until it has received the approval of creditors holding 51 per cent in value of the debts dealt with, and until it shall have been given legal effect by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

11. It shall further be a condition of this plan that all expenses of the investigation and the formulating and carrying out of the plan, including all legal and fiscal agency expenses in connection with the refunding shall be paid by the city out of the present sinking fund or the debenture retirement fund, and that the plan in legal form be approved of by counsel for the debenture holders, including the procedure required to enable him to give his legal opinion as to the validity of the new debentures.

12. The plan, if approved should be given effect as of December 31, 1936.

Valuation calculations and certain statistics are approximate only and will require to be subject to more accurately detailed treatment.

MUST BE ACCEPTED

Mayor Andrew McGavin made the following statement:

"If this plan is not accepted, the only alternative is an increase in the present mill rate. What the exact increase would be, it is rather difficult to say at the moment, but it would appear from a preliminary estimate, that if all statutory requirements are budgeted for, a levy of fourteen mills more would be required than if we followed the same method of budgeting as in 1936. On the other hand, the adoption of the Fortin plan would mean a reduction of six mills as compared with the 1936 methor of budgeting. I am not suggesting that the adoption of the Fortin plan will give an immediate reduction in the tax rate of six mills, but under this plan we get some immediate relief. Without it, the burden is, in my opinion, too great for our taxpayers to carry.

"All members of the Council have had an opportunity to study the proposals submitted by Mr. Fortin as representing the bondholders' committee and have also heard Mr. Fortin explain the various details connected therewith.

"It may be that the plan as presented does not meet with all the expectation of the City Council nor the hopes we may have had in connection with refunding.

SOME IMPROVEMENT

"The plan, however, as I see it, does guarantee an immediate improvement in our financial situation and in view of the difficulties we have experienced in relation to our annual budgets of the last few years, the increasing expenditures over which the City Council has no control, and the necessity for relieving our taxpayers as speedily as possible, I feel it my duty to recommend acceptance of the proposals offered.

"There are still many details to be worked out, legal as well as financial, and it must also be borne in mind that at the moment we have no definite legislative authority to put the new proposals into effect. I feel sure, however, that the Provincial Government stands ready to assist the city in every possible way and that any arrangements arrived at between the city and its bondholders will receive Government approval.

NO DEFAULT

"Under the proposed rearrangement of our financial obligations there is no suggestion of default or repudiation, the taxpayer will eventually pay every dollar for both principal and interest that we have formerly agreed to pay but in the extended maturity date of the proposed new debentures and an immediate payment out of present sinking funds to wipe out all interest rates higher than 5 per cent, our annual debt charges for sinking fund and interest are materially reduced and our debt burden is spread over a period of forty years.

"One of the most favorable features of the proposed new debentures is that the whole or any part may be retired by call. Should conditions arise whereby the City is able to borrow at lower rate than 4 1-2 per cent, which is the interest rate on the new debentures, the city could take advantage thereof.

"The scheme provides for the appointment of a board of trustees charged with the duty of liquidating the present securities in the sinking funds, and also administering the principal sum repayable each year, also to be used for cancelation of new debentures. In other words, this board collects the principal sum each year from the city and buys and cancels new bonds therewith.

NO BORROWING

"Another favorable feature is that we are not compelled to pay the required principal sum each year unless it is collected from the taxpayer. In other words no borrowing would be necessary to meet our principal payments, which means a much better prospect for a balanced budget each year, as it provides against a sudden drop in tax collections.

"In our conferences with Mr. Fortin we deemed it advisable to ask that the City Council have the right to withhold payments on account of principal for the first three years. This has been agreed to and the council will have these funds, approximately $138,000 per year for the first three years to help balance the budget, and it may be possible to pass on some small measure of relief to the taxpayer, commencing this year.

"Under the present scheme our whole capital picture is cleaned up, the bank loans are provided for, sinking fund difficulties wiped out and we are enabled to retire our debt in the cheapest possible way and we are no longer subject to a fluctuating interest rate.

COUNCIL FREE

"There is just one other thing I wish to mention. The bondholders have left the City Council absolutely free to run civic affairs, no demands are being made for reductions in expenditures, but it was pointed out very clearly that many of our departments, as compared with both Calgary and Edmonton, are much more costly to operate than in the cities mentioned. Figures were presented regarding police, fire, street lighting, library, schools and City Hall administration, and, with one exception, taking the three cities on the basis of population and area, Victoria compares most favorably. While there may be some reasonable explanation, it will be necessary for us, before the budget is finally passed, to inquire very closely into these matters, as it will be of little value to us making any new arrangement with our bondholders if we fail to exercise the economy necessary to ease the burden on our taxpayers and enable our small home owner in particular, to carry on.

TOO GENEROUS

"Another interesting point called to our attention is the fact that of all major cities in Canada, Victoria is the only city where the 'hub' is in financial difficulties and the surrounding municipalities are prosperous. It may be that our policy regarding neighboring municipalities has, in the past, been too generous or it may be a temporary condition which changes with the year, but whatever the reason it would be well for the City Council to make a thorough investigation of conditions to insure that our own taxpayer is not carrying a load which, at least in part, should be carried by others," Mayor McGavin declared.

FINANCE CHAIRMAN

Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the council finance committee, made the following remarks:

"I would just like to repeat one

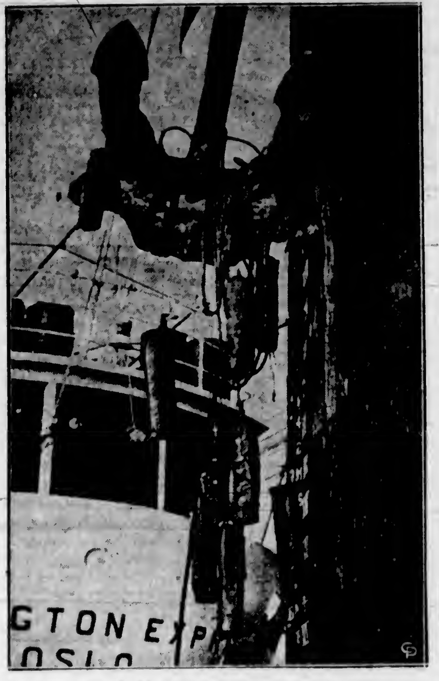
Anchor Pulls Up Opium



When the Japanese freighter Gyokoh Maru hoisted her anchor before moving to her berth at New Westminster, B.C., eleven sacks containing opium valued at $100,000 were brought to the surface as shown above. The sacks were wired together on a long rope and each contained a number of cans of the narcotic.

Jack Manning Is Committed for Trial on Charge of Conspiracy

Jack Manning, charged with having been engaged in a conspiracy with others to defraud, and of having obtained by fraud, $600 from John Soderstrom, who came here from Elk Point, Alta., was committed for trial by Magistrate H. C. Hall yesterday morning.

A plea of not guilty was entered by Robert D. Harvey, counsel for the accused, who contended there was no evidence to show the accused was a party to fraud. The magistrate, however, after hearing the evidence, decided the accused should take his trial in the higher court.

Soderstrom, fifty-nine years of age, said he had come to Victoria for his health. He met the accused at an hotel and he asked him to go to Beacon Hill Park.

FOUND POCKETBOOK

In the park they found a pocketbook containing $50 in money and a bond for $100,000. A man came along and asked about the pocketbook and appeared overjoyed to discover it had been found, the witness related.

The owner was asked to prove ownership of the wallet, which was done. Then the overjoyed owner, known as Williams, wanted to reward them and they refused, the witness said.

The next step, witness testified, was an intimation Williams was in the confidence of a New York syndicate concerned in horse racing and that he had knowledge of what horses were to be winners. The remainder of the evidence had to do with the carrying out of a betting arrangement, under which Williams went out and got necessary information.

"CREDIT CHEQUE"

For a time, witness said, the horses were winning and afterwards there was the prospect that perhaps $30,000 might be made. What was known as a "credit cheque" was made out and witness and Williams signed it.

SCHEME FAILED

Then followed a story of the scheme having failed and Williams claimed he could not get the money. It became necessary for assistance to be obtained and Mr. Soderstrom was called upon to pay over the $600 he had in the bank here, witness continued.

The accused promised to fix things up when he went to Saskatoon. Williams disappeared and accused went to Vancouver with Mr. Soderstrom.

To Mr. Harvey, Soderstrom stated he thought four bets were made. He said he did not make a move to have the accused arrested as he knew nothing wrong about him at the time. The accused, when told by Williams the loss had occurred, called Williams names and struck him. After the money was lost, witness said he did not believe a word accused told him.

Other evidence was given by O. P. Plummer, of the Vancouver detective force, who arrested the accused on his arrival in Vancouver.

SEEK COLLECTION OF UNPAID TAXES

Esquimalt Contemplates Legal Action to Bring In Trades, Dog, Road and Poll Levies

Final demands will be made for delinquent trade licences, dog licences and road and poll taxes, the Esquimalt Council decided last evening after hearing a report from Chief of Police W. W. Peckwold. The municipality contemplates legal action if the levies are not paid forthwith.

Amendments to the zoning by-law will be considered at a meeting next Monday evening. Applications have been received for changes in the by-law to permit rezoning of a section of Sturdee Street as a retail instead of an apartment district, of a dwelling on Esquimalt Road into an apartment house, erection of stables for a riding academy on Dunsmuir Road, and construction of an auto camp on Gorge Road.

Four by-laws were given first and second readings at the meeting. They were the annual loan by-law to borrow $40,000 from the bank against current tax collections, a by-law authorizing the sale of reverted lands, another altering the interest from 5 to 4½ per cent on prepaid taxes, and a fourth reducing the sewer tax from eleven to eight cents per foot, but increasing sewer rentals from $1 to $1.50.

"I am a woman of few words," announced the haughty mistress to the new maid. "If I beckon with my finger that means come."

"Suits me, mum," replied the girl. "I'm a woman of few words myself. If I shake my head, that means I ain't comin'."—The Veteran.

CREDIT BODY SUCCESSFUL

Increase in Membership and Income Shown at Annual Meeting

"I can see the foundation of the sound principles which started this organization being firmly built upon. Credit business and co-operation is at a much higher plane than ever before, and calls for your healthy support," T. W. Macpherson, retiring president of the Credit Granters' Association of Victoria, told members at the annual meeting, held in Spencer's dining-room yesterday.

He declared the pats year had been marked by steady progress in the work of the association, and extended thanks to all committee chairmen, and to the press for their assistance during his term of office.

BUREAU BIGGER

"The big effort of the year," he said, "was the District No. 10 convention ably presided over by Oliver M. Prentice. The bureau is bigger and better, and our procedure is continually being improved, which makes membership of more value than ever to the credit granter, and the Credit Granters' Association."

Annual reports were submitted by L. Mallek, programme; Col. H. E. Goodman, bureau; Walter Fletcher, membership; G. A. A. Hebden, publicity; L. Mayhew, attendance; L. Corke, legislative; G. E. MacDonald, educational; George W. Grant, auditor.

MEMBERSHIP UP

The report on membership showed that twenty-five had resigned during the year and that thirty-five had voluntarily joined—a net increase of ten.

The statement of income and expense for the year ending December 31, 1936, showed average monthly earning of $665.95, compared with $664.25 last year. Average net cash received amounted to $7,101.40, or $591.80 per month, compared with $586.15 for the preceding year. Income for the year totaled $8,536.59.

The report was submitted by George C. Grant and E. P. Johnston, auditors.

The following nine directors, who will choose the new president at a subsequent meeting, were named: G. A. A. Hebden, L. Malleck, E. Evenden, O. M. Prentice, L. Corke, H. J. Shepherd, Len Cox, Walter Fletcher and A. K. Love.

The association received an invitation to attend the annual meeting of the Vancouver organization, February 18, and another from Seattle, requesting representation at the national convention in Spokane, on June 12.

The cutting of a birthday cake by George Grant, marking the fifth anniversary of organization of the association, was a pleasing feature of the luncheon.

A. P. Macdonald, operations secretary, Canadian Airways, here in connection with the exhibition at Spencer's, Ltd., was introduced and spoke briefly.

Impressive Tribute Paid to Late J. G. Brown at Funeral Services Here

Honor was paid to the memory of the late J. G. Brown by citizens of Victoria yesterday afternoon, when funeral services were conducted in First United Church by the minister, Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson. Before a large congregation of residents of the city who had known Mr. Brown over a long period of time in many capacities, Dr. Wilson paid fitting tribute to his worth as a citizen.

Referring to the death of Mr. Brown, Dr. Wilson said there should not be undue sorrow at the passing of one whose whole life had been well filled in years and honor. He had been spared long illness and suffering.

"We are assembled for the purpose of laying him to rest among the people who for so many years have known him so well and have so honored him. We should be thankful that he has been spared so many years," the minister declared.

Narrowness was remote from Mr. Brown's character, said Dr. Wilson. The monuments of his skill as an architect were in evidence in the brick and mortar throughout the country.

TO GLORY OF GOD

Dr. Wilson recalled that Mr. Brown had always been a valuable worker for the church. Well nigh for forty-seven years, he had been identified with church work. Mention was made of the many years he had conducted the choir, and Dr. Wilson stated he had devoted his talents in a musical way to the glory of God.

The strong sympathy of Mr. Brown for the people of the race to which he had belonged was referred to by Dr. Wilson, who spoke of the deep love which the deceased had for the city of Victoria in which he had lived so long and to which he became so much attached. Assisting in the service was Rev. James Hood, pastor of Belmont Avenue United Church.

A choir representing those who sang with Mr. Brown in the old church and also members of the present church choir led the singing at the funeral of the two hymns, favorites of the deceased, "Rock of Ages" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul."

Jack Smith presided at the organ, the voluntaries including also Mr. Brown's favorite numbers as follows: "O Rest in the Lord" and "My Ain Countree," being played as the casket and mourners entered the church. At the conclusion of the service, the Scottish lament, "The Flowers of the Forest," was played.

ORGANIZATIONS REPRESENTED

The pallbearers, all drawn from the ranks of those with whom Mr. Brown had been associated in different organizations in the city and in public service, were E. M. Whyte, C. F. Dawson, R. G. Howell, W. C. Fyfe, T. H. Leeming and Robert Morrison. Interment was made in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Members of the Victoria Burns Club attended in a body at the church. The Victoria Musical Festival Association, of which Mr. Brown was a charter member, was officially represented at the funeral by Mrs. W. H. Radbourne and H. A. Beckwith, charter members of the board of directors of that society.

In addition, there were present representatives from many other organizations in the city with which Mr. Brown had been identified. Hon. John Hart, Acting Premier, represented the Provincial Government.

PLANNING NAVAL BASE

MALAGA, Spain, Feb. 9 (AP).—The army of Spanish Fascism set up military rule tonight to convert this captured Mediterranean port into a powerful naval base before turning northward against the narrowing territory still held by the Socialist Government.

General Arnaldi, commander of one of the columns which led the march into the city yesterday, was named military governor and took over his task. His soldiers tossed aside their packsacks to join dark-eyed senoritas in dancing and gay celebrations in the streets while police squads worked to clear debris from the burned and dynamite-shattered centre of the city.

Quickly the city's 400,000 population joined in the demonstrations, relieved by the end of terrified weeks of aerial bombardment and the rule of anarchist bands.

Fox said the boatmen's union also would tie up Canadian logs.

He said the union had entered British Columbia after the dissolving of the Seafarers' Industrial Union following an unsuccessful 1935 strike in Vancouver.

"The shipowners objected to the seafarers because they weren't affiliated with the A.F. of L.," he said, "but as soon as we stepped into the picture, they began just as hard a fight to keep us from organizing on the grounds they wanted only a Canadian union.

"Well, the men want to join our organization and we're going to see to it they get to. We'll tie up their boats on this side of the line to help those on the other. We're interested for two reasons; first, the bringing of fair conditions and wages to British Columbia boats, and, secondly, to allow for favorable competition between American and Canadian boats coming into American waters," Fox said.

Manuscript of Colonel Ross Napier's Read at Meeting of Local Burns Club

Prevalence of influenza prevented 200 members of the Victoria Burns Club from hearing Rev. J. Richmond Craig speak on the life of the Scots bard when they gathered in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium last evening.

W. B. Grant, club president, explained that he had asked Col. R. Ross Napier to address the gathering when he heard of the illness of the Fairfield United Church pastor, but found the colonel also indisposed. The latter, however, lent Mr. Grant his manuscript of "A Burns Nicht on the Amazon," which the president read to an appreciative audience.

Members were delighted with a selection by Pipe-Major Donald Cameron on his pibroch, and recalled both Miss Phyllis Deaville and Dudley Dickett, who had charmed with vocal renditions. Both were later heard to advantage in duets. Miss J. Smith was accompanist.

Capt. J. U. Gordon, Dr. W. R. Gunn, Neil Pollock, R. W. Marsh and Duncan MacBride were named a nominating committee by the chairman to designate candidates to fill vacancies on the executive. They will report at the March meeting.

Mr. Grant announced a grand Scottish concert will be held under the club's auspices, February 23, when members of First United Church Choir will be heard.

Members of the chapter assisted on Alexandra Rose Day, Poppy Day and also on the tag day for the Women's Workroom and at all public services in which the I.O.D.E. is interested and at which the chapter was always represented.

TALENT MONEY

The plan of reimbursing the treasury by donations from the members had met with fair success, several donation of "talent" money having been received. The annual appeal for garments for Child Welfare met as usual with a most generous response. A bridge tea was held at the home of Mrs. Nichol, the proposed garden fete having been cancelled on account of rain. A generous supply of clothing, toys, etc. had been sent to the Red Cross Hospital at Cecil Lake, Peace River District.

Last month a recital was arranged by Mrs. Harty Morden at the home of the regent, and a special word of thanks was expressed by the chapter to Mrs. Morden and others assisting with the programme.

In conclusion, Mrs. Chisholm spoke of the chapter's regret at the retirement of Mrs. Nichol, who has held the office of regent for several years, and a beautifully illuminated address, together with a corsage bouquet of flowers, was presented to her by the members.

PRESENTATIONS MADE

MRS. B. H. TYRWHITT DRAKE

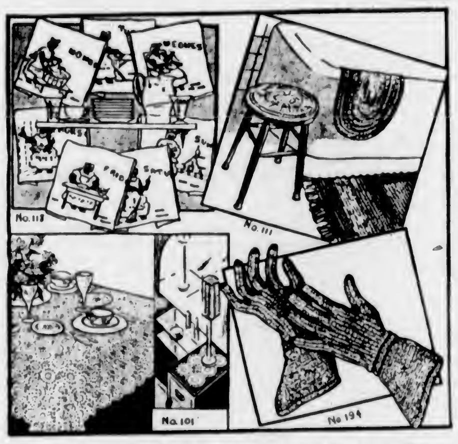
Mrs. Nichol presented a sheaf of daffodils, tulips and iris to Mrs Sampson, in appreciation of her many kindnesses to the chapter and for her gracious hospitality. On behalf of the chapter, the regent presented Mrs. Chisholm, the retiring secretary, with a handsome engraved silver box, in recognition of her faithful services as a most efficient secretary for the past eight years. The gift was accompanied by a corsage bouquet of rosebuds.

The chapter's receipts for the year amounted to $912.36 and the disbursements, $829.16, it was reported by the treasurer, Miss Pitts.

After the meting, Mrs. Sampson entertained the members at tea.

Donationsh for the annual book shower were brought by the members to be added to the Jubilee Hospital library.

Needlework Designs



Here are four needlework designs to delight the heart of any homemaker. Amusing "Black Mammy" patterns that can lift even tea towels out of the commonplace, an original bathroom set in crochet, a perfectly gorgeous lace cloth, and a pair of hand-knitted gloves with an "imported" look are offered for your selection.

Design No. 101—"Simply enchanting" your guests will say. This elaborately dainty tablecloth will please the graceful hostess. It is a simple pattern to make. Once you start you will not want to stop. Detailed instructions for working are included with the pattern.

Design No. 111—The simplicity of this crochet bathroom set is unusually appealing. Fashioned of double cord, it is very durable, quick to make and launders beautifully. A happy combination of smartness and practicality. The set consists of a stool cover, oblong rug and oval bath mat. The pattern includes a generous sample of the crochet cotton in which the original models were worked, full crocheting instructions without abbreviations, color combinations and directions for making each piece in any desired size.

Design No. 118—On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and on throughout the week, cheerful Mammy's tea towels bring brightness into the kitchen. Equally attractive worked in cross-stitch in gay colors or worked throughout in delft blue or buttercup yellow thread. Repeat the designs on other kitchen linens for novelty. The pattern includes a transfer for the designs, color combinations and working istructions for six towels.

Design No. 194—The latest decree from Paris for knit gloves features tips and bracelets of contrasting shades to the gloves. Knit the gloves in "tweed" or plain color, and these trims in the new jewel tones will make your hands appear slim and dainty with a touch of individuality. They are being worn for town or country and are comfortable and smart enough for any occasion. This pattern can be obtained in sizes 6 and 7. Pattern contains complete instructions for knitting and sample of wool used in making the originals.

Each of these patterns costs 20 cents.

Anglican Young People

ST. JOHN'S

St. John's A.Y.P.A. met recently with the president, Alan Paver, in the chair. The hymn, "O Jesus, I Have Promised," was sung and prayer was led by Rev. G. R. V. Bolster. The report on the annual banquet and dance was read by Harold Parrott. Impromptu speeches were then given. The topics which came under discussion were "Kissing," by Stanley Laver; this was elaborated upon by Iris Smith; "My Ankles," by Kay Smith; "The Boy Nearest Me," by Rosa Stone; "The Girl I'd Like to Marry," by B. Creelman; "Two's Company, Three's a Crowd," by Alan Paver; "What I Carry in My Handbag," by Thora Harrison; "The Boy I'd Like to Marry," by Jean Jackson; "Fruit Cakes," by Mrs. Bolster, and "Divorce," by John Hooper, Harold Parrott and Stanley Laver. These caused much hilarity among the members. Mr. Ben Drew, a great friend of St. John's and an earnest worker in the A.Y.P.A. brought a brief message to the branch.

QUARTERLY RALLY

The inspirational quarterly rally of the Victoria A.Y.P.A. was held Sunday evening at St. Matthias' Church when a large number of young people gathered. A special church service, conducted by Rev. Alan Gardiner, preceded the rally. Mr. Jack Aylwin acted as chairman and spoke on the campaign now in progress regarding funds for the Columbia Coast Mission. Col. A. W. R. Wilby, chairman of the Victoria C.C.M. Board, presented a stirring message on the opportunity open to all A.Y.P.A. members to help the Christian cause in assisting with this campaign. Dr. T. A. Connold, skipper of the Florida V, related some amusing facts of his life with the mission and stated it was the hope of the mission to obtain a radio-telephone which is so urgently needed. Mr. Ben Drew, Vancouver, an old friend of the A.Y.P.A. and secretary of the C.C.M., then spoke on the mission work, stressing its need and commending the splendid example set by Victoria in this worthy endeavor. Mr. Drew brought greetings and best wishes from Mr. N. J. Southcott, provincial president of the A.Y.P.A., for the success of the campaign. Hymns were interspersed through the programme. Prayer concluded the speeches. A message was received from Bishop H. E. Sexton, who is ill. Sincere thanks were extended St. Matthias' Church for the use of the hall. Refreshments were served under the management of Mrs. W. Bennett and Miss Lenora Trickett. Miss May Phillips acted as accompanist at the piano.

Chinese Churches Hold Social Night

An enjoyable evening was spent by the three local Chinese churches, Presbyterian, Anglican and United, at the Anglican Mission recently. Rev. Chow Ling opened the meeting, which was followed by the installation of officers.

Officers for the year of the Christian Union of the above Chinese churches were chosen as follows: John Bong, president; Wong Wah, vice-president; Dick Joe, secretary; Matthew Bong, correspondent; Eng Sank, treasurer, and Clarence Lee, social convener.

Musical numbers were contributed by Miss Grace Lee, Miss Alice Gee and Phillip Chan. A comedy sketch by the young men, and the serving of refreshments concluded the evening's programme.

Gay Crowd Celebrates Mardi Gras

The Mardi Gras or Shrove Tuesday dance held by the Ladies' Auxiliary to St. Joseph's T.B. Pavilion, Vernon Villa, last evening at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, was an even greater success than the Auxiliary had anticipated, a crowd of 300 dancers joining in the revelry until 1 a.m.

PRETTY DECORATIONS

The dance-room and veranda had been elaborately decorated by Mrs. Vaughan Thomson and Mrs. R. H. Green. Valentine streamers, clusters of balloons, rainbow-hued paper streamers and flags all adding to the gaiety of the scene, while over the fireplace a huge red and silver Valentine held the place of honor.

One of Victoria's most popular orchestras had been engaged for the evening and the crowd enjoyed a special treat when Mr. Sidney McAllister sang two special numbers, "Let's Sing Again" and "A Star Fell Out of Heaven." Both numbers were applauded enthusiastically.

QUEEN CROWNED

At midnight interest centred on the coronation of the "Queen of the Mardi Gras Carnival," who was determined by finding the lady who has caught the lucky balloon with two strings. With due ceremony and no little wit in connection with the speeches, the "Queen" was crowned by Hon. John Hart, acting Premier, who placed a beautiful crimson satin and be-jeweled crown on the head of Miss Gertrude Taylor.

Supper was served in the upstairs dining-room, the tables bright with Valentine decorations.

Another of the highlights of the entertainment was the dance by Len and Zoe Wagstaff, the guests showing their enjoyment by prolonged applause.

"Name, please," asked the minister engaged in baptizing the infant.

"Cholmondeley Chillingworth Montmorency Percival Marmaduke Burpingham 3d."

"More water, please," said the minister to his assistant.

Saanich Liberals to Hold Annual Dance

The Saanich Liberal Association will hold its annual dance at the Foresters' Hall, Cormorant Street, on Friday evening. There will be both old-time and modern dances, and a popular orchestra has been engaged. Mr. L. Fletcher, of Ward Two, the chairman of the dance committee, and Mrs. Pass, of Ward Seven, convener, report that arrangements are under way which point to a most successful dance. Tickets may be obtained at Liberal headquarters, from members of the association and at the door.

Every Sunday the minister called on one of his flock who owned a parrot that was prone to use racy language, and every Sunday a cloth was put over the parrot's cage before the minister's arrival.

But once the minister called unexpectedly on a Wednesday, and the cloth was hastily thrown over the cage as he entered the room.

"Hi!" shrieked tthe parrot, "that's a darned short week!"

Many Friends Present At Wedding Reception

Miss Constance Ross and Mr. Frank M. Ohrt Married Yesterday—Bride and Groom Receive at Home of Bride's Uncle and Aunt

The marriage of Miss Constance Ross, younger daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ross, Victoria, and Mr. Frank Millard Ohrt, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John D. Ohrt, Toronto, took place at noon yesterday at the Manse of Metropolitan United Church, Rev. E. F. Church officiating in the presence of near relatives.

The bride looked very smart in a brown mixture tweed suit, with a long coat, trimmed with a beaver collar which extended down the front to the hem on each side. With this was worn a rust shade satin blouse with a cabochon of pearls at the v-neck opening, a small brown hat and veil, brown shoes and beige gloves. She carried a large Victorian bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and pink rosebuds.

Attending the bride as matron-of-honor was Mrs. F. G. Aldous in a navy blue suit, a blue velvet hat and black fox fur. She wore a corsage spray of pink carnations. Mr. Clifford Adams was best man.

THE RECEPTION

Later in the afternoon, Mr. F. M. Russell and Miss Alma Russell, uncle and aunt of the bride, entertained over one hundred old friends in their home on Victoria Avenue. A lovely assortment of Spring flowers, including daffodils, tulips and freesias, arranged in the drawing-room, made a fragrant setting for the reception. Miss Russell welcomed the guests in an attractive frock of dark brown cellophane lace over taffeta, with a matching jacket, and a large silk flower in blending shades at the throat. Her tiny hat of brown taffeta and straw was worn with a stiff cellophane veil.

BRIDE'S FROCK

The bride and her matron-of-honor had changed into lovely afternoon frocks for the reception, which was at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Ohrt wore a long model frock of black chiffon velvet trimmed with a novelty bow of patent leather at the neck and a similar belt, and an exquisite little brightly figured lame jacket, the ensemble completed with a tiny turban of black net edged with velvet, and short veil. She carried her wedding bouquet. Mrs. Aldous had chosen a gown of flowered chiffon with a coral tunic, and a large picture hat of black velvet.

Refreshments were served in the dining-room, where the long table was spread with a handsome Belgian lace cloth, and arranged with glistening English cut-glass and silver holders bearing Talisman roses and freesias and tall pale pink candles.

After the wedding cake was cut by the bride, the following toasts were made: "The Bride," proposed by Dr. Thomas McPherson, responded to by the bridegroom; and "The Matron-of-Honor," proposed by Dr. S. J. Plaskett, responded to by Mr. Aldous.

After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Ohrt will take up residence in their recently built home at Ten Mile Point.

GOVERNMENT MARKS TIME ON DISPUTE

000 on indigent medical services, of which $175,000 was paid directly to physicians in private practice. During that year there were an average of 86,000 persons on monthly relief and indigent lists. These services were exclusive of free hospitalization of indigents, towards which the Province made statutory grants of $1,512,792 to British Columbia Hospitals; and exclusive also of tubercular, and social diseases.

WANTED REORGANIZATION

"I have stated publicly on various occasions my personal feeling that the existing arrangements are incomplete, and my own desire that indigent medical services be reorganized and improved so that, among other things, more adequate renumeration for doctors will be provided. It is unfair and inaccurate for the leaders of the medical profession to give the impression that nothing at all is being done in British Columbia," the Provincial Secretary's statement said.

Speaking at an open luncheon meeting of the B.C. Medical Association in Vancouver, Dr. Wallace Wilson, vice-chairman of the health insurance committee of the B.C. College of Physicians and Surgeons, invited the Government in the name of the profession to postpone the whole scheme, until indigent care is ironed out, and until adequate hospital accomodation is made available. Dr. Wilson said, in part:

SUGGEST POSTPONEMENT

"The committee, speaking for the vast majority of medical men in British Columbia, repectfully recommends to the Government that the Health Insurance Act be postponed; that during the postponement a definite provincial-wide policy for providing medical care for the poor and needy be enunciated and brought into effect; and that a definite plan for coping with the hospital situation be enunciated and brought into effect.

"Until the Government can do these things, we respectfully submit, the time is not ripe to initiate health insurance in this province. Make no mistake about it, health insurance is going to come, and the medical profession for one is not trying to fend it off indefinitely; but we do want the foundation to be solid.

"We want it to give a square deal to those who most need it, and to those who are going to provide the service. If the Government will do these things, and build up health insurance aright, it will have behind it, I am sure, the people of this province and among them the medical profession.

HURRY PROTESTED

"Throughout the rest of Canada and throughout the United States, the developments of health insurance in British Columbia are being watched with keenest interest and anxiety. When we bring it in we want something that we can be proud of and something that will last. Surely it is not urgent or vitally important that we should hurry this scheme unduly, simply that we may be the first on the American continent to introduce the experiment of health insurance," Dr. Wilson concluded.

At the outset of his address, Dr. Wilson traced the history of the doctors' negotiations with the Government and with the commission, stating that from the outset the medical profession had pointed to the necessity for the care of indigents, and adequate provision of hospital accomodation. In Vancouver alone, he said, there was a shortage of 500 hospital beds now, and insurance would add need of 300 additional beds to this gap

PROTEST MADE

Meanwhile, Vancouver business groups have become concerned over the situation. A delegation of Mainland business men called on members of the Government yesterday, to enter protest against the commencement of the scheme in its present form. They saw Acting Premier Hart, W. E. Paine and prominent members of the commercial life of the city were represented in the group.

Peerless Fashion Patterns

A two-piece school dress of navy blue wool that will serve two or more purposes. It's grand, too, for cool early Spring weather without a coat.

Daughter will enjoy wearing lots of different sweaters with the navy skirts. A coral-red or one of the new Dalmatian sweaters would be so bright and gay. The fitted bodice lining top sees that the skirt stays "put."

The peplum blouse flares so cunningly over the hips. The sleeves puff a little at the shoulders. They are equally smart above the elbows as in the back view.

The pattern can be used again for a separate blouse or for a separate skirt. An extra skirt of bright plaid would look adorable with the navy blouse.

A print crepe silk is nice for "best." Cottons and linens are also suitable.

Style No. 3099 is designed for sizes 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 8 requires $2\frac{1}{8}$ yards and 39-inch material with $\frac{3}{8}$ yards of 35-inch lining for bodice.

The Fall and Winter Fashion Book is filled with lovely designs for everyday wear, which are easy and inexpensive to make.

mission's investigation, scattered disorders continued throughout Palestine

DISORDERS CONTINUE

Arabs attacked Jews near Samaria and thirty shots were exchanged, while a shot from a band of Arabs wounded a Jew near Hadera

Witnesses for the Jews and Arabs disagreed on virtually every point during the hearings by the commission, which was headed by Lord Peel.

The Arab case reduced itself to one principal point, as stated by Auni Bey Abdul Hadi, a member of the higher committee: "This is our country, and the Jews are trying to take it away from us."

HOME OF THE JEWS

Dr. Chaim Weizmann, head of the Zionist organization, and other Jewish spokesmen denied the charge. They held that Palestine, from both religious and historical standpoints, was the home of the Jews, but declared they wanted only to settle Jews here in accordance with the "economic absorptive capacity" of the country.

A British colonial who took part in the suppression of the Arab uprising last year, summarized the situation thus:

"An imposed settlement, satisfactory to neither side, but vigorously enforced by the British Government, may be the only answer."

HIGH NOON

by RUBY M. AYRES

SYNOPSIS

Upon the shoulders of Heather Aston, now 34, has rested the burden of rearing six brothers and sisters, the youngest of whom, Bobbie, now nearly 17, had cost their mother her life. Heather had started her sacrifices when Bobbie was a year old, telling Bruce Logan, who was leaving England for South Africa, that she could not marry him and desert Caesar, as they affectionately called their pompous but inefficient father, and "her children." Caesar has insufficient means to maintain Tangley, the home his father gave him as a wedding present, and spends his time interminably writing a "book," which is never completed. Paul, the oldest brother, has married a wealthy woman, who, after a year alienated him from his family. Now Betty has just married the well-to-do Stephen Miller, and left on a honeymoon, leaving Heather worn out by her efforts to make the wedding the success it was with the limited means at her command. Events of the day have recalled Bruce Logan vividly to her mind. In the midst of her wistful reminiscences she receives a letter from her sister Vilette, who has been travelling with a second-rate theatrical company in South Africa. Ponsonby is her stage name. She announces she is through with the stage, will be on her way home when the letter is received, and has met "the man," who is returning on the same steamer. Heather goes to Waterloo to meet the boat train. Inconsiderately, Vilette does not wire her when she accepts the man's invitation to drive up from Southampton with him. When Heather returns home Vilette introduces him—he is Bruce Logan.

CHAPTER III

Sixteen years!

Vilette, who was still clinging to Heather's arm, was rattling on, "Do you find each other very much altered? You must have been just children when you last met. It's the kind of thing you read about in story book and never expect to really happen——"

She gave Heather a playful little shake. "Wake up, darling, you look quite dazed."

Heather found her voice with a great effort. "I am dazed——" she said. "It's the last thing I ever expected or—or——"

Bruce Logan held out his hand and she laid hers in it. "I am very glad to see you again, Heather," he said, and at the sound of his voice she almost cried out, but she managed a little laugh.

"Have you had lunch? Yes, I suppose you have—it must be nearly tea time . . . isn't it?" she added vaguely.

It was Vilette who answered. "We lunched at a roadhouse coming up." And then, without waiting for anyone to speak, she went on, "Which room am I to have? I think I'll go and wash—you two stay and talk."

"I'll go with you," Heather said hurriedly. "I'll show you your room—it's Betty's old room. I thought as it was bigger——"

She hurried after her sister without another glance at Logan.

"Of course, Betty's married a millionaire?" Vilette said.

"I think he's quite well off," Heather managed to answer.

"So is Bruce," Vilette said almost shyly, and then, "Fancy you two having known each other! . . . I don't remember him, but I suppose I was only a kid then. He didn't remember me, either—but I've altered so much, haven't I?"

Heather said generously, "You're looking very pretty, dear."

"Am I?" Vilette squeezed her sister's arm. "We had a perfectly marvelous trip home. Of course, Bruce being there made it all the more exciting. He dances divinely, and I love tall men."

They were at the top of the stairs now, and Heather gently disengaged herself. In Betty's room she said, "It's a lovely sunny room, the nicest in the house, I think."

"But it is a bit of a barn, isn't it?" Vilette said, then asked anxiously, "Will there be a decent dinner tonight? I'd like Bruce to stay."

"It's roast chicken," Heather answered.

Vilette made a little grimace. "Oh, well, that's not so bad. I suppose," she added a little impatiently, "you're still a slave to the whole family. I can't think why you don't cut and run."

Heather smiled faintly. "Where should I run to?" she asked.

She went downstairs very slowly, conscious of a numbed feeling in her heart and mind. What a wonderful thing it was to be young and carefree, like Vilette! . . .

She paused for a moment in the hall, forgetting why she had come downstairs. Oh, yes, the roses she had bought at Waterloo for Vilette, and she must speak to Priddy about the chicken for supper.

She crossed the hall on tiptoe, not wanting either Caesar or Bruce to hear her. The roses were in the drawing-room. Logan, standing at the open window looking over the ragged garden, turned quickly at the sound of her footstep.

"I expect he hoped it would be Vilette," Heather thought.

Logan came forward a step, and Heather said, "I've come for the roses—oh, there they are."

She picked them up and would have gone, but that he said again, "It is good to see you, Heather."

She raised her eyes. "And to see you, too."

He brushed a hand across the back of his hair with a well-remembered gesture, and she smiled suddenly.

"You haven't altered, Bruce—you're just the same—more group-up, of course."

"Nothing seems to have altered—it's like—like stepping back sixteen years. The house is just the same—and the garden. I could find my way about it blindfold. Is the May bush still there, where we found the thrush's nest? And the pond I made for John and Paul? Do you remember that we could never make the water stay in?" He laughed on a strangely excited note, and then before she could answer he said, "Do you know that this is the first time I have been home since—since you saw me off that morning?"

She said hurriedly, "I'll just put the roses in water——" but he was between her and the door now and it seemed impossible to pass him."

"Is it?" She tried hard to steady her voice. "You must find everything very different from what it was then."

She looked at him calmly enough, and yet her heart ached as it recognized and acknowledged afresh the dearness of him, the well-remembered lines of his face, the funny little upward turn of one eyebrow which she had so often teased him about, the kink in his hair which no amount of oiling and brushing would flatten, the warm look in his brown eyes which seemed as if someone had lit a lamp behind them . . . foolish to remember and to be hurt by the remembrance.

She said hurriedly, "I'll just put the roses in water——" but he was between her and the door now, and it seemed impossible to pass him.

It was he who broke the silence. "You're still looking after the family, Heather?"

"Oh, yes . . . but I've lost two of them. Paul and Betty are both married, and Vilette doesn't seem to belong to us any more——"

He said, "And Bobbie? He was a baby when I went away."

Her quiet face broke into a smile. "Bobbie is going to be the biggest of them all—he's taller than I am, and such a darling." She stopped to add quickly, "That reminds me—he ought to be back. He was flying this morning, and——"

"Not an airman?"

"Oh, no—he just went up with a friend. He's still at school, though I suppose he will leave at the end of the year . . . That's Vilette calling," and she passed him with a little rush, ashamed because she was trembling.

How foolish, when it was for Vilette's sake that he was here!

She took the roses up to her sister's room.

Heather was very quiet during dinner, but as Vilette rattled away the whole time, it passed unnoticed, though once when across the table she met Bruce Logan's eyes, she thought there was something very sympathetic in his smile.

"It must be sixteen years since you were here," Caesar said. "I remember that my dear wife had a great affection for you. You remember her, of course?"

"Very well indeed."

"Do you remember the fish pond?" John broke in, "and how upset Heather was because you spent all one Saturday afternoon building it, instead of taking her for a picnic?"

"John!" Heather protested indignantly.

"Well, you were," he said. "I'll bet Bruce remembers it, too."

Bruce laughed. "I should have been wiser to have gone for the picnic," he answered. "The fish pond was a failure anyway."

"Heather's filled it with ferns now," John informed him. "It's the one decent spot in the garden."

"I am very fond of ferns," Heather said a little constrainedly.

It was difficult to listen calmly to these reminiscences; each one brought back the past so vividly. She remembered well enough that she had been a little upset because they had not gone for the promised picnic, but the boys had pleaded so hard that Bruce stay, and he had said half apologetically, "We can always go another day, Heather," but that other day had never come, for quite soon after he went to South Africa.

How very young she must have been . . . it would take a great deal more than a picnic to hurt her now.

She had been worried because Bobbie hadn't returned from the aerodrome, and they were having coffee in the drawing-room before her anxious ear heard his footsteps and she hurried from the room. She returned with Bobbie, and Vilette nodded to her younger brother who smiled rather self-consciously.

Logan went towards him. "You won't remember me," he said.

"Heather's told me," Bobbie answered.

They shook hands.

"Did you have a good time?" Heather asked.

His young face lit with enthusiasm. "Marvelous—we went to Paris."

"Paris!" Vilette cried. "You lucky creature! Who took you?"

Bobbie shifted from one leg to the other. "Oh, just a chap I know," he said awkwardly. "He's going to Germany tomorrow." Then abruptly he asked, "Is there any grub, Heather?"

"I'll get you some."

Bobbie's interest in motors hurried him through his meal and soon he was out with Bruce, his head under the hood of Bruce's low-slung car. Caesar had retired to his study again, and John had gone up to his room to read. Heather went to the schoolroom for her workbag. There were always such shoals of stockings and socks to mend. She tried not to think of the day's events, but a question crystalized: What did this meeting with Bruce mean to her after so long?

"Nothing," she told herself firmly, and tried to believe it.

Was it likely that Bruce would give her a second glance or thought when Vilette was there? And yet a sad little voice was whispering in her heart, "He belonged to me once."

There was a sound of footsteps. "I've just come to say good-bye," Bruce Logan said.

Heather stood up, one hand still thrust into the foot of Bobbie's sock. "Oh, are you going?" she said helplessly.

"Yes—it looks like a storm, and I want to get to town before it starts."

There was a little silence which both of them were at a loss to fill, till Logan asked, "When may I see you again?"

Her eyes wavered, though she answered with a smile, "Come whenever you like—we shall always be pleased to see you. And thank you for bringing Vilette home. You are staying in London?"

"Yes. I've taken a service flat—perhaps you will come and lunch with me one day?"

"We'll all come," she said quickly. "That's the worst of us—we hunt in batches. I expect you'll have far too much of the family before your leave is over."

"No," he said, and then, "Well—good-bye."

She avoided his hand. "I'll come to the door."

Bruce took his seat at the wheel of his car and slammed the door. "Give me a ring in the morning," Vilette commanded.

"I shall probably come down," he answered.

He smiled a last good-bye and Heather wondered if he had quite forgotten that morning at Waterloo, and the way he had leaned down to catch her hand . . .

"Oh, Heather, can't you?"

The memory was so poignant that she turned quickly away, so she did not see that his last glance was for her, and not for Vilette, who blew him a dainty kiss from the tips of her fingers.

A newly-wed decided he'd like to take his bride up in an airplane, so, after having the necessary lessons, took her up. Suddenly, the young bride said: "What is the matter, dear?"

"Something has gone wrong with the controls. I shall have to land somewhere soon."

"But we shall crash, shan't we?" said she.

"Of course we shall crash, but don't worry. It'll be quite all right. I'm told there's a rubber plantation below."

A farmer had engaged a young man from the town to work for him, and soon discovered that he was not too bright. The new man was constantly putting the end boards of the carts on wrong. He would put the front board on behind and the back board on the front. Finally, the farmer painted a large "B" on each board and called the man's attention to them.

"Now, blockhead," he said, "you can't make any more mistakes. That 'B' is for 'before' and this 'B' is for 'behind'."

ANNIVERSARY OF RAILROAD

Chicago and Milwaukee Celebrating Its Ninetieth Year During Week

The Milwaukee Road observes its ninetieth anniversary this week, according to Eric Marshall, local representative of the company. On February 11, 1847, Governor Henry Dodge, of the "territory" of Wisconsin, approved a bill incorporating the Milwaukee & Waukesha Railroad, the first predecessor company of the present-day system embracing more than 11,000 miles of railroad in twelve states.

According to the charter the company was granted the right to locate and construct a single or double track railroad between those towns, "to transport, take and carry property and persons upon the same, by the power and force of steam, of animals, or of any mechanical or other power, or any combination of them."

NAME CHANGED

The name of the company was changed to Milwaukee & Mississippi Railroad on February 1, 1850. It was the first railroad to build in Wisconsin. By November five miles of track has been laid to Wauwatosa. On February 25, 1851, the road to Waukesha was formally opened. In 1857 the road's objective, the Mississippi River at Prairie du Chien was reached.

In his "Brief Record of the Development of the Milwaukee Road" F. H. Johnson writes: "In the '30's much thought was given to the subject of transportation. The construction of railroads in the East impressed the people of Wisconsin and on September 17, 1836, at a village meeting in Milwaukee, Solomon Juneau, Byron Kilbourn, Hans Crocker, Benjamin H. Edgerton, and eleven others were appointed to carry out the object of the meeting—the construction of a railroad from Milwaukee to the Mississippi River.

"Although the idea was well received and Congress appropriated $2,000 for a survey, the panic of 1837, rivalry among towns, and arguments over respective merits of waterways, highways, plank roads and railways prevented execution of the plan. However, in 1845 one Asa Whitney and a party of surveyors found several promising routes between Milwaukee and Mississippi and much enthusiasm was aroused."

At that time, in the entire territory west of the Great Lakes and the lower Mississippi River, there were but little more than 100 miles of railroad. Settlers in the territory had great difficulty in reaching their new homes. Roads were non-existent or poorly marked, river crossings were difficult and roving bands of Indians were encountered.

PIONEERS' ATTITUDE

The attitude of the pioneers toward the railroads is indicated by the following extract from an article written in 1855 by General Rufus King upon his return to Milwaukee from a trip through the territory through which the early day lines of the Milwaukee Road were being constructed:

"The completion of this road, now distant not more than fourteen or sixteen months, will be a memorable event for our city and state. It has already trebled and quadrupled the value of the farming lands along its eastern and finished division, and increased by the same amount the taxable property of the state. Its extension to the Mississippi will accomplish the like result along the western half of the line and give to the farmers of Dane, Sauk, Iowa, Richland, Grant and Crawford counties a noble avenue to the metropolis and principal market of the state.

"It will confer upon our city still more striking benefits, bringing hither not only the travel and traffic from all the counties within our own state through which it runs, but extending its feelers up the Mississippi and gathering in from Iowa, Minnesota and Northwestern Wisconsin rich harvests of business and golden returns of trade. Let our merchants and businessmen, then, thank God and take courage, for the whole Northwest invites and will reward their ventures."

SOVIET FLYER ON LONG TRIP

Pilot Fahrig Takes Off on 12,500-Mile Flight in Trans-Polar Regions

MOSCOW, Feb. 9 (AP).—Chief Pilot F. B. Fahrig, Russia's most experienced Arctic flyer, took off today on a projected 12,500-mile flight to explore the trans-Polar route between Moscow and Alaska.

With a crew of five and three passengers, he lifted the huge Soviet plane U.S.S.R.-N120, from the Central Airport to start the first complete circuit of the Far North ever undertaken in Winter.

Fahrig will test the new plane under severe flying conditions, inspect Winter settlements in the Arctic and deliver supplies and mail.

Fahrig will fly via Novosibirsk, Irkutsk, Yakutsk and Anadyr to within a few miles of Alaska. Then he will turn back toward Moscow and make the second half of the air journey by way of Wrangel Island, Tixie Bay, Chelyuskin, Dickson Island and Archangel.

Ready for Another Season

Yesterday the Shantyman's Christian Association Ms. Messenger II was being put in shape at the Empress landing for the 1937 season on the West Coast of Vancouver Island. Before heading west, however, the Messenger II will spend some time among the Gulf Islands. She will leave here this morning in charge of Percy Wills, missionary. His assistant at the present time is John Robinson.

FISHERMEN VERY BUSY

West Coast Villages Hum With Activity—Expect Prosperous Season

UCLUELET, Feb. 9.—While some places are still in the throes of Winter, many settlements on the West Coast already hum with activity as the machine-shops and local boat-builders are pushing the work ahead so that the West Coast fishing fleet will be ready for the spring salmon season. This run is due to start any time now.

This large fishing fleet is made up of units stationed at Bamfield, Ucluelet, Tofino, Clayoquot, Kyuquot, Nootka and other small harbors, coves and sheltered places along the coast. Many new boats will join the fleet this year and many old ones are being repaired and reconditioned for the coming season. New engines are being installed and fishing boats can be seen beached at numerous little settlements along the shore awaiting a favorable change in the weather in order to scrape and paint the hulls and be ready for the first sign of the run.

Along this outside coast the visitor senses that feeling of expectation of better catches, higher prices, and improved market conditions this season than for years past. The Fall and Winter fishing was reported better on the whole, while last Summer some of the runs were said to be so large that it was difficult to maintain a steady market.

RUN IS IRREGULAR

The spring salmon run is irregular, but when it comes, early or late, the independent fishemen on the West Coast are always ready to take advantage of it. All along the coast there is an increased activity as the boast ars being made ready after the Winter lay-up. Fishing on this open coast-line is hazardous, and all equipment is of the best, and many thousands of dollars are spent each year in the upkeep of the fishing boats.

A few springs have already been brought in, and this only tends to hasten the work on boats and gear. These fish, which are caught with line and spoon, are trolled for during the Spring and Summer months. Some are caught close to shore and some as far out as the twenty-five-mile bank. Almost the entire catch is shipped fresh to the fish markets of the world. The demand is always keen and the price dependable. The springs play a large part in the annual income of a large percentage of the residents on the West Coast. A day's catch valued at $100 is not an exceptional day's work when the days are long and the run is good.

A number of crews are now making ready for the halibut fishing. This season will open on March 15. This takes a larger type of boat than the troller, as they usually fish farther off shore. The halibut banks off the West Coast have contributd to the wealth of the Island, even from the earliest days.

SOME FAIR CATCHES

Some fair catches of cod have been brought in during the past month, which soon found its way to the local markets. While cod is always plentiful on the West Coast, it is only during the Winter months that it pays the fishermen to set for cod in any large quantities. Small shipments of perch have also been made.

Some of the fishermen who have been working on the herring in Barkley Sound for some months are now taking the opportunity to overhaul their boats and put them in commission for the coming season.

The Indian fishermen, too, after a few weeks of idleness, are beginning to feel the stir of Spring. Late this month or early in March the first of the seal herd will be sighted off the West Coast as they are en route from the Southern waters to the Bering Sea on their annual voyage. Sealing is still a remunerative business for the Indians—this is one thing left them where there is no competition from the white man. All the seal brought in are hunted and killed by the Indian sealers. The demand for sealskins this year will be greater than for several years, it is expected.

Yachts Start in Annual Race For Ocean Honors

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 9 (AP).—Nineteen sailing yachts got away to a perfect start today in the fourth annual race to Nassau, with the entries that could sail close hauled apparently holding a decided edge.

For one-third of the 184-mile course—across the Gulf stream off Great Isaac Light—the yachts headed into a stiff wind that blew whitecaps off the rolling waves.

NIAGARA IS DAY BEHIND

Liner Late Leaving Honolulu Due to Dock Saturday Morning

A day late in leaving Honolulu, it will be Saturday morning before the Canadian-Australasian Ss. Niagara, Captain William Martin, reaches Victoria, according to wireless advices received yesterday from the ship by James Macfarlane, general agent of Canadian Pacific Steamships here. The liner is due to arrive at William Head at 5 a.m., the message stated, which means if there is no further delay, she should dock alongside Rithet Piers by 7 o'clock.

The Niagara has 317 passengers in all classes aboard, a large number of whom will debark here for United States points.

TRADER SHIFTS

The Furness Line Ms. Pacific Trader, which has been loading lumber at Ogden Point Piers for Europe, shifted overnight to Vancouver. The combined freight and passenger ship is due to leave the Mainland port for London at the beginning of next week.

LINER BRETAGNE

The liner Bretagne, of the French Line, which is destined to open in May, 1937, the first passenger de luxe service direct from the Pacific Coast to England and France via Central America and West Indies ports, sailed a few days ago from Le Havre on a trial run to the Moroccan coast, according to the San Francisco office of the French Line.

SAILING ADVANCED

In order to make it possible for American sportsmen and horse enthusiasts desirous of attending the Grend National at Aintree, England, on March 19, to reach Europe in time for the start of this race, the French Line has decided to advance the sailing of the Ss. Ile de France from March 13 at 12 noon to March 12 at 11:55, according to the Empire Shipping Company, British Columbia agents. The change in schedule will make it possible for passengers who want to attend to arrive in Southampton on the morning of March 18, giving them ample time to reach Aintree for the start of the race.

TO CHAMPION CIVILIZATION

Capt. H. G. Scott Reviews European Situation for Women's Canadian Club

That Great Britain may once again be cast for her traditional role of champion of the world's civilization in the midst of a civilization that at the moment appears to be crumbling in the sinister shadow of a great international drama being enacted in Europe, is the expressed belief of Captain H. G. Scott, M.A., LL.B., who addressed a big audience of Women's Canadian Club members at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon.

Conditions in Russia, Germany, Spain, Poland, Italy, France and Czechoslovakia were ably reviewed by the speaker, who only recently returned from another of the several visits he has made to Europe since the war. Beginning with Russia, he traced the dark drama to the shores of Spain, where an intolerable situation had developed from what the world at first deemed to be but an incipient local trouble. Through the introduction of paid Moorish soldiers from Morocco, the rebellion had developed into a civil war, with international aspects created by the opportunity which Spain's condition had offered to Fascist interests in Germany and Italy.

MERCENARY TROOPS

Reiterating what he said a few weeks ago in addressing the Men's Canadian Club, Captain Scott maintained that German and Italian volunteers could not possibly have left those countries without the knowledge and connivance of their respective Governments. The Spanish rebels by importing the Moorish paid troops had given Italy and Germany their idea of converting the war to their advantage and giving it a Fascist conclusion. In return for this no doubt a definite price would have to be paid by any new government in Spain.

In speaking of the movement of Nazis from Germany to join the rebels in Spain, Captain Scott saw an expression of "the German civil war that simmers under the surface."

Another gloomy conjecture was that in the event that Germany and Italy did manage to help the rebels to win in Spain, the payment exacted might be the Balearic Islands, a direct menace to the French line of communication with Africa. And if Germany seized Spanish possessions in Morocco, this would be not only another threat to France, but to Britain and her communications with Africa and the Far East.

TRIPLE ALLIANCE

The prospect of a revival of the triple alliance was a possible prospect for Britain. The situation as it stood today was fraught with tremendous danger, all the more dangerous because of Japan's movement toward the Continent of Asia. This would have immediate effect on Canada, the speaker declared.

For Britain to take a neutral stand would only bring down on her the hatred of all the countries involved. Britain had faced dangers before, and Captain Scott maintained that if all parts of the Empire stood shoulder to shoulder, she would still be able to face the danger which now seemed so imminent.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. S. J. Willis, owing to indisposition, the vice-president, Mrs. H. L. Campbell, presided at yesterday's meeting, and announced that the speaker at the next meeting, Tuesday, February 23, would be Rev. Richmond Craig, whose subject would be "Making Waste Work."

Great pleasure was given by yesterday's soloist, Mrs. H. F. Lawnby, who sang "Slave Song" and "Mellisanda in the Wood," with Mrs. Charles Conyers as her accompanist.

MANY YEARS OF RAILROAD WORK

Officers Elected to Canadian National Veterans' Association Total Great Age

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9.—Five hundred and eighteen years of age, with 328 years of loyal and faithful railway service. This was the outstanding feature of the election of officers of Branch No. 1, Canadian National Railways Veterans' Association, Winnipeg, at its annual meeting, which has just been held here.

The above statistics have no relation to the large membership present, but only refers to the election of officers. Here is the picture: H. L. Cameron, grand president, seventy-six, with fifty years of service; W. Bowman, president, seventy-one, with fifty years of service; J. R. Templeton, vice-president, seventy-three, with forty-five years of service; D. Grant, secretary, seventy-one, with forty-nine years of service; J. A. Charlton, treasurer, seventy-one, with fifty-four years of service; J. H. Ferguson, past president, eighty years, with forty-five years of service, and J. Brady, past treasurer, seventy-six, with thirty-five years of service.

Judging from the enthusiasm the veterans displayed at their meeting, they are all full of good health yet and plan many years of successful meetings of the veterans' association.

SCHEME MAY REDUCE ANNUAL DEBT CHARGE

point which the mayor has already mentioned and that is, under the present proposals there is no suggestion of repudiation or default. We get relief, but we still pay our debts in full.

"As you will notice, the total debt of the city included in this scheme amounts to a little over $18,000,000. After canceling our bonds held in the present sinking funds, it leaves a net total of $14,588,561, or thereabouts, for which new bonds will be issued, bearing interest at 4½ per cent and maturing in forty years. To retire these new bonds an annuity of approximately $790,000 will be payable.

"This amount of $790,000 is the maximum annual payment to retire the new bond issue on or before 1977, but this annuity will be reduced in various ways. It is reduced immediately by the earnings from securities in the present sinking funds, valued at approximately $900,000. Calculated at 4 per cent these earnings amount to $36,000, which leaves the net total of the annual payment at $754,000. In contrast to our present annual debt charges of $1,352,998 there is an immediate saving of a minimum of $598,792. This should enable us to balance our budget forthwith. The interest rate on the new bonds is 4½ per cent and all our present bonds over that rate will automatically be reduced to 4½ per cent at the date of their present maturity. Our present bonds carrying a lower rate than 4½ per cent will continue with this lower rate until 1977.

REDUCE INTEREST

"In connection with present city bonds bearing 5¼, 5½ and 6 per cent, it is proposed to bring these issues down to a uniform rate of 4½ per cent by paying in cash out of the present sinking funds an amount equal to the value of the interest from date of the agreement, to date of present maturity of the high rate bonds mentioned. This premium amounts approximately to $347,128. The payment of this interest in advance will reduce the amount of the interest portion of our annuity, and 5 per cent is then the highest interest rate payable on any city bond.

"I stated that the annual annuity payment would be reduced in various ways. I referred to the interest portion of the annuity, which is reduced when present sinking funds are realized and new bonds bought or called for cancelation with proceeds, it is reduced when any of the new bonds are purchased by the city below par, it is reduced when the present 5 per cent issues mature and also reduced by several small capital repayments made before the scheme actually comes into operation.

"The capital portion of the annuity is handed over each year to a trustee retirement board whose duty it will be to utilize this money in buying for cancelation, new bonds. If it is possible to buy bonds at a discount they will be bought on the market, but if none are available from this source, provision is made for calling a certain number on any interest date.

TRUSTEES IN CONTROL

"The trustees will also have control of the present sinking fund securities which they will liquidate as and when this can be done without capital loss.

"Another advantageous point is the call feature of the new bonds. If the city is able to borrow money at any time in the future at a lower rate than 4¼ per cent, the whole, or any part of the new bond issue can be called at par. The price of the new bonds, therefore, will never exceed par, but it is hoped that for some years to come the city will be able to purchase the new bonds at a discount, which means an immediate cash saving.

"The city will also have the right to abstain from making any capital payment for the next three years. This releases a sum of $138,000 for budget purposes, part of which may be used for reduction of taxes if the City Council deems advisable.

REDUCED ANNUITY

"As the new bonds are canceled the interest portion of the annuity reduces, but the city is given the right to make a recalculation of this annuity at any time, and future councils will have the power to make the annuity nearer the actual amount required and pass on the saving to the taxpayer. If more prosperous times are experienced the annuity could be kept at its present figure and the extra portion used for buying and canceling bonds which would hasten the due retirement date and also make a still further saving in interest, or the money thus available could be used for any needed works.

"It is proposed that all expenses in connection with this refunding will be taken from the present sinking funds. These expenses will include the premium payable to reduce the interest on the 5¼'s, 5½'s and 6's to 4½ per cent, fiscal agents fees, traveling and hotel expenses of bondholders representatives, printing of new bonds, expenses of bondholders committee for obtaining approvals of 51 per cent of bondholders which would cover certain printing, telegrams, telephones, postages, cables, etc., also expenses of legal representatives of bondholders who will approve the new bond issue and by-laws in connection therewith.

AUTHORITY NEEDED

"As the mayor has already pointed out the City Council is without legal authority to ratify the proposals made, but should 51 per cent of the bondholders approve of the scheme and the City Council agree thereto, ministers of the Government have assured us that everything possible will be done by the Government to assist the city of Victoria to retain its solvency and credit. I am in favor of the present proposals for the reason that any alternative would impose a burden on our taxpayers at the present time which they cannot possibly carry.

"I am disappointed the city is not securing the amount of relief aldermen expected. All expenses in connection with refunding will come from the sinking fund, not from taxpayers' pockets. If the callable feature had not been incorporated in the plan, I should have been very diffident about supporting it," Dr. Hunter concluded.

ONE BILLION DOLLARS PAID OUT IN BENEFITS BY SUN LIFE OF CANADA

SINCE FIRST POLICY WAS ISSUED IN 1871

SECURITY — SERVICE — WORLD WIDE

To Policyholders and The Public

Another milestone of achievement in public service has been passed by the Company during 1936. Of the many significant features of the Annual Report, perhaps the most striking is that during sixty-six years of operation the Sun Life of Canada has paid in benefits to its policyholders and beneficiaries more than One Billion Dollars. These benefits, made possible by the thrift and foresight of men and women brought together for mutual protection, have made a notable contribution to the sum of human happiness and national well-being.

Life assurance is a great co-operative enterprise by which millions of policyholders are enabled to provide financial security for their dependants and themselves. Its contributions to the public welfare are continuous and ever-expanding. The savings of policyholders in the form of premiums, invested in Government securities and in basic industries, are an important factor in national progress and stability, while the benefits distributed maintain homes and lessen the demands for public and private relief.

Lawson Little Explains How to Execute a Hook

Use Shorter Club Than Usual in Attempting to Play Ball Around Trouble—Tells of Great Shot Olin Dutra Made in 1934 Open Meet

By LAWSON LITTLE

Last week I wrote "Slicing Your Way Around Trouble." In this release the player will find the sequel, that is, hooking your way around trouble. There are many occasions when a player finds an obstacle in his way, and the only way around it is to hook the ball. Suppose a player is playing down a fairway with heavy woods ahead on the left. His tee shot has hooked a little too much and he is near the trees, with the overhanging branches in the path to the hole. In this case a slice or a straight ball would crash into the trees. His only hope of getting on the green would be a well-played, controlled hook.

I will never forget a shot I saw played by Olin Dutra when he won the open championship at Merion in 1934. We were the last twosome out, and when we reached the fourteenth hole, word came that Dutra only needed to finish one over par to win the open. These last five holes at Merion are long, hard-finishing ones with tricky greens. More often than not, players ruined an otherwise fine score on these closing holes.

SHORTER CLUB FOR HOOK

The fourteenth is a 400-yard dog-leg to the left, with trees and out of bounds in this direction. Any drive to the left of the centre of the fairway leaves the player stymied from the hole by the trees. Olin, probably a little excited over the chance of winning, pulled his drive to the left, leaving himself a very nasty second shot to play. After a good drive, the hole was ordinarily played with a four iron for the second shot. But Dutra had to hook the ball around the trees. So, instead of using a number four iron, he selected a five, because a hooked ball goes further than if it is played straight or faded. The reason is that the loft of the club is lessened as the club is turned over to the left.

To play the shot he used a closed stance, that is, the left foot was nearer to the line of flight than the right. He addressed the ball slightly back toward the right foot and placed the club on the ground with the blade hooded or turned to the left.

In making his swing, he swung in a flatter arc than usual, hitting the ball from the "inside out." As the clubhead came onto the ball, he employed a little more power with the front of the right hand, so that the club would contact the ball as it was turning over to the left.

The ball started wide out around the trees, then began to curve in toward the green. All of a sudden there was a shout of applause from the gallery at the green. We knew the shot had been successful. When we reached the green we learned that the ball landed about thirty feet short of the edge and rolled up to within eighteen feet of the pin. On this shot, Olin Dutra hooked his way out of trouble and into an open championship throne.

Opposing Dominoes Here This Week

Here's the famous House of David basketball squad which will face Victoria Dominoes Friday and Saturday evenings at the High School gymnasium in exhibition tussles. The bearded cagers are on their annual tour and since leaving Benton Harbor, Michigan, have scored victories over some of the finest clubs in the United States. The preliminary games each night will commence at 8 o'clock and the main attraction about 9:15. In the picture are shown, left to right, Manager George H. Johnson, Artie Deim, Captain; Greg Deim, Hassie Peterson, Swede Olson and Art Stoelting, one of the tallest playing the game on the continent. Stoelting will be jumping at centre and will have a big advantage over Art Chapman, the Dominoes' jump expert. The bearded pivot star of the Davidans is six feet, eleven inches, about eight more than Chapman.

VANCOUVER FIGHTER AWARDED TECHNICAL KNOCKOUT IN EIGHTH

Canadian Champion Given Scheduled Twelve-Rounder When Johnny Blochlinger Claims Foul Late in Bout—Crowd Boos Poor Exhibition—Keist Scores Technical K.O.

Given a technical kayo in the eighth round when a low left hook, unquestionably a foul blow, stopped ambitious Johnny Blochlinger, Edmonton battler, from making a bid for the Canadian crown, Gordon Wallace, Vancouver, retained his welterweight championship at the Tillicum gymnasium last night.

Billed for twelve rounds and given the top spot on the fisticuffs programme, the bout was a fiasco from start to finish and was certainly the worst mix on the card. It is many years since Victoria followers of the cauliflower pastime—and there were many of the faithful present—have watched such a miserable exhibition of glove throwing.

To be fair to Wallace, the present ruler, he did most of the leather throwing, and, of course, good-looking Johnny Blochlinger did the receiving. The Mainlander found Blochlinger's falling, crowding style troublesome, and even as champion was not impressive.

JUST CONFIDENCE

Blochlinger had nothing but confidence. He landed a couple of lefts and a right during the eight rounds of boxing and the fans, more out of sympathy than anything else, gave the youngster some encouragement when he landed.

Never a crowd pleaser, the bout finished in a very unsatisfactory manner for the cash customers in the eighth session when Wallace sank a low left hook. Blochlinger dropped to the canvas in Wallace's corner and claimed a foul. He was helped to his corner and his manager, E. D. Douglas, and Matchmaker Nick Lystar, his seconds, worked on him.

His head wrapped in a towel, Blochlinger sat on the chair while officials, managers and even the fans warmed up into a sweet argument as to the outcome of the scrap. Champion Gordon Wallace walked across the ring to his opponent and then returned to his own corner, where he stood, a much worried battler.

FAILS TO CONTINUE

Dr. A. G. Aylward, club physician, was called into the discussion, and after an examination of Blochlinger announced that there were no visible signs of a bruise. Immediately he was informed of this decision Referee Roy Baker decided to give the Edmonton boy three minutes to return to the ring. Of course, Blochlinger did not return to toss leather, and believe it or not, Gordon Wallace, Canada's welterweight champion, was awarded the mix on a technical kayo. And so the Mainland belter retained his Canadian crown which for a few seconds appeared as if it would topple off, via the foul route.

Using Harry Miller, game Alberni glove-thrower, for a punching-bag for practically the entire distance, Tim Keist, Victoria battler, scored a six-round technical kayo when Referee Roy Baker halted the mix early in the final session to save Miller from further punishment. Miller weighed 138 pounds, one pound more than Keist.

The Victoria boy handed Miller one of the worst trouncings the game Up-Islander has tasted in years of fighting. There were times when Miller, through sheer courage and a fighting heart, rallied and the fans gave him a big hand. Keist hit him with rights and lefts that came so often that they looked like showers, but Miller, the crowd-pleasing type who receives and tries to pay back, stayed little more than five rounds. Miller's left eye was swollen and bleeding badly as the fifth session ended. Referee Baker wanted to stop the mix at this stage, but Miller asked to be allowed to fight. He did, but only for about a minute, and then Baker stopped the milling.

GIVEN OVATION

It was a great battle—and while Keist was given a big hand for his showing, game little Harry Miller, Alberni battler, who has been tossing leather for a few years, was given a thunderous ovation as he left the ring. The crowd likes a fighter and a man who never quits.

Gil McNutt, young Saanich fighter, making his second appearance in the squared circle, really upset the dope when he stopped Freddie Buxton, sixteen-year-old member of the Buxton family, in the third round of a scheduled four-round special event. A short right to the jaw put Buxton to sleep. McNutt, displaying punching power, dropped his opponent for an eight count in the first session and then the gong ended the round.

The Saanich youngster fought a grand fight and will undoubtedly be heard from in future bouts. Buxton weighed 142 and McNutt 141.

Eric Whitehead, the boy with the "golden slippers," registered a second-round technical kayo over Jack Armstrong, local pugilist, in the second mix on the card. There was plenty of slugging while the battle lasted and the fans really enjoyed it. Whitehead weighed 138 pounds and Armstrong 140 pounds.

"Scotty" McPherson and "Tony" Speller, local youngsters, stepped four rounds in a pleasing preliminary. They mixed at 118 pounds.

All of the fights leading up to the main event were packed with action and did their bit to salvage the show. The championship mix, however, was a poor climax to what gave promise of being one of the best fisticuffs programmes of the season. It spoiled the show.

DICKEY KERR BACK IN GAME

Former Pitcher of White Sox Returning to Baseball as a Manager

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., Feb. 9 (AP).—"Dickey" Kerr, who pitched two winning games for Chicago White Sox in the world series of 1919 that developed the "throw" scandal, today announced his return to organized baseball. He revealed he had signed a one-year contract as player-manager of the Northern League team of Wausau, Wis.

The Sox won, 3-0 and 5-4, behind Kerr's great hurling in the historic series. After Cincinnati Reds had taken the series five games to three, it was revealed a number of White Sox players had "thrown" the series in a conspiracy with gamblers. All the players directly concerned were suspended from baseball for life, but the breath of scandal did not touch Kerr.

Kerr was last in baseball when he coached the Rice Institute Owls, of Houston, Texas. He has since been connected with the cotton business.

Promoter Druxman Will Show Steele

SEATTLE, Feb. 9. (AP).—Promoter Nate Druxman said today he plans to show Freddy Steele, Tacoma's world champion middleweight boxer, in a championship fight here this season, providing Steele wins from Babe Risko in New York City on February 19. He said he expects both Steele and Manager Dave Miller to return West next month.

Druxman did not say who he planned to match with Steele, but boxing writers said they believed Teddy Yarosz and Ken Overlin both were under consideration.

Remember When

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

Harry Bernard, trainer of Joe Bayley, of this city, claims for his protege the lightweight championship of Canada. His argument is a good one, but when Billy Allen won the Flanagan belt it came from a boy down in Windsor, Ontario, by the name of Droulliard, who was acknowledged in the East as the Canadian champion. However, none of the Western fighters have ever challenged, but it is safe to say that the fighters in the West of Canada are just as good as those in the East.

With Cyril Baker playing on the forward line, the Foresters appear to have a strong line-up for Saturday. The team will be selected from the following: Harvey, Saul, Nixon, Paterson, Kelsall, Potter, Main, Inglis, Doig, Stafford, Baker, Hobson, Malban, Gould and Wormold.

Mr. G. H. Barnard, M.P., has consented to donate a trophy for the city Rugby League championship. The prize will be in the form of a cup, which will be purchased shortly by Mr. A. Milligan, secretary of the Victoria Rugby League. At the present time, the law students are leading the race for the trophy, but whether their lead will be broken before the season closes is hard to say. Up to this, the students have the enviable reputation of not having lost a match.

The Victoria field hockey team will meet the British Isles public schools team of Vancouver at the Albion cricket grounds this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The visitors will find the locals at their best this season, and a good game is promised.

TAYLOR'S STABLE LEADS IN SOUTH

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9 (AP).—The stable of Major A. C. Taylor, of Vancouver, after six weeks of racing, finally has edged out Mrs. Vera S. Bragg's string as the leading money winner at Santa Anita track.

Recent victories by Bonny Grafton and Whichee put the A.C.T. stock farm in front with $15,110. The farm has produced thirteen winners in thirty-six starts.

Mrs. Bragg, of Los Angeles, is second with $14,680 and the A. G. Vanderbilt stable third with $12,270.

Kansas Miler in Victory

Lou Ambers Will Meet Davey Day In East Tonight

Since he outpointed Canzoneri on September 3 and captured the 135-pound crown, Ambers has dropped decisions to Eddie Cool and Jimmy McLarnin, fought a ten-round draw with Enrico Venturi and stopped Charley "Stumpy" Jacobs in seven rounds.

New York Team Shows Great Form in Turning Back Toronto in One-Sided Game, 5-1—Bruins Suffer Second Straight Shutout by Losing To Maroons—Americans Beat Wings

TORONTO, Feb. 9 (AP).—On display with the smart passing attack of the good old days when the Cooks and Boucher were in command, New York Rangers triumphed, 5-1, over Toronto Maple Leafs here tonight in a National Hockey League fixture. While the old favorites of Lester Patrick, notably Bill and Bun Cook, were mostly missing, the Blue Shirts outplayed the Leafs decisively, with Cecil Dillon, Phil Watson, Ott Heller, the Colville brothers, Lynn Patrick and others supplying power and finesse.

CECIL DILLON

Within a period of eight minutes in the second session, during which the Patrick system functioned perfectly, Rangers scored four goals and coasted home with victory from that point. Dillon scored twice and Watson twice.

Humbled so thoroughly they had limited resources left for a third-period comeback, Leafs scored their only goal in the third period, Gordon sinking a wild passout by Ching Johnson, Ranger defenceman, who otherwise acquitted himself creditably. Rangers matched it with a final tally by Mac Colville on brother Neil's assist.

MAROONS BLANK BRUINS

BOSTON, Feb. 9 (AP).—Montreal Maroons shook off the Bruin hoodoo tonight as Jerry Shannon's brace of goals sent the Boston National Hockey Leaguers down to a 2-0 defeat.

The victory was Maroons' first of the season against the slipping Bruins, and it drew them up three and one-half games behind the first-place Montreal Canadiens, of the Canadian Section, and three full games ahead of the third-place Toronto Maple Leafs.

Shannon, a former Bruin, got his tallies in the first and third periods, the opener coming with the game little more than four minutes old. On this one, Earl Robinson got the rubber at the right boards and passed across the goalmouth to Jerry, who banged it in.

It was Robinson who got the assist on Shannon's second goal, too. After circling the Bruin net, Robinson slipped a pass out to Shannon, who shot it home from five feet.

AMERKS IN VICTORY

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP).—Snapping out of a losing streak, New York Americans, of the Canadian division cellar, handed a 3-2 defeat tonight to Detroit Red Wings, National Hockey League champions and leaders of the United States' section.

The victory placed the Americans, cellar occupants of the Canadian division, within three games of the third-place Toronto Maple Leafs. It was the first defeat the Stanley Cup champions have suffered in ten games.

Marty Barry shot the Red Wings to the front early in the first frame by scoring while the Amerks were short handed. The lead lasted until after the half-way mark of the second chapter when Sweeney Schriner knotted the count.

The Americans outplayed Detroit during the last twenty minutes and goals by Tony Hemmerling and Joe Jerwa clinched the contest. Sid Howe made matters close by scoring the Red's second goal with only a few seconds to play.

VERNON GOMEZ IS YANKEE HOLDOUT

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP).—Vernon "Goofy" Gomez, the Yankees' southpaw pitcher, who has announced several times he wouldn't sign his contract this year unless he was offered what he wanted, is officially on the club's holdout list.

Following the ceremony yesterday at which Tony Lazzeri, star second sacker and "the player of the year" in the opinion of the New York baseball writers, signed at a "compromise" figure reported to be $14,000, Business Manager Ed Barrow revealed that Gomez' contract had come bouncing back from Bermuda. It arrived without a signature and without comment from the star southpaw.

The Canadian-born outfielder, George Selkirk, and Joe Glenn, second-string catcher, also signed yesterday.

Old Country Hockey

LONDON, Feb. 9 (AP).—Harringay Greyhounds and Harringay Racers played the first scoreless tie of the National Hockey League season tonight. The point Racers gained left them still one behind Wembley Lions, the league leaders.

Richmond Hawks won their eighth game of the season, taking Southampton Vikings, 5-4. Hamilton Riley; Rudy Pilous, of Winnipeg; Foster Dickson and George McNeil, of New Glasgow, N.S., and Jack Keating, of Kitchener, Ont., scored for Hawks. Roger Belisle and Roger Gaudette, of Montreal, divided the Viking goals.

Dizzy Dean Will Not Be Sold by St. Louis Cards

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 9 (AP).—Would-be purchasers of Dizzy Dean can put away their money bags and bring out their baseball players if they want the eccentric St. Louis Cardinal pitcher.

This was the import of a brief statement issued today by Branch Rickey, vice-president and general manager of the Cards. It said:

"I do not believe Dizzy will be traded—certainly not before the opening of the season—and I know that he never will be sold."

Rickey declined to amplify the statement.

Ross Wilson Drops Hard-Fought Match In South America

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 9 (CP-Havas).—Ross Wilson, of Toronto, was eliminated from the Argentine tennis tournament today by M. Procopio, of Brazil, in a grueling match. The score was 5-7, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3.

Yesterday Procopio defeated Douglas Cameron, of Vancouver, in a preliminary round, 6-2, 8-6.

Baer Is Offered $25,000 for Mix

SOCCER GAMES OFF

With grounds still unfit for play, Wednesday Football League elevens will be idle again today.

CINCY REDS IS FIELDING STRONG CLUB

Warren Giles Seems Happy as He Glances at Roster of His Squad

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP).—Warren Giles glanced happily at the roster of his Cincinnati Reds today and decided the Reds may have to introduce the "shock troop" system in the National Baseball League this season.

"We have two teams, outside the pitching staff, that are almost evenly matched," beamed Giles. "Charley Dressen may be able to start his reserves and then put in the first team."

Giles carefully pointed out he's only the general manager of this club and has nothing to do with what happens after it gets on the field. Furthermore, he doesn't want anything to do with it.

"Deciding between those two outfits is too tough for me," he says.

Swinging around the diamond, he can't find a single position where last year's regular won't have to battle for his job.

At first base, Les Scarsella, who came up from Toronto Maple Leafs, of the International Baseball League, and batted .313 during the last half of the season, must fight off Frank McCormick, a great young prospect who batted .381 for Durham last year.

VETERAN IN LINE

Second Baseman Alex Kampouris has to beat out the veteran Charley Gelbert, obtained by the Reds from St. Louis Cardinals, and Giles, incidentally, gives Gelbert the edge.

At third, Lew Riggs, who hit only .257 in 1936, must win his job over Jimmy Outlaw, who hit .330 at Nashville last year, and Billy Myers, regular shortstop, who is a question mark because of a late-season operation, has to beat out Eddie Miller, who came up from Toronto.

The catching race is so close that Giles won't even mention Ernie Lombardi before Vergil Davis, or vice versa.

"Competition is even tougher in the outfield," Giles said. "In centre field we have Kiki Cuyler and Harvey Walker, in left Phil Weintraub, and a great prospect from Nashville called Joe Dwyer, and in right Ivan Goodman and Jack Rothrock."

RECORD ENTRY LIST

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP).—Boasting a record entry list of 3,144, the Westminster Kennel Club's annual show, blue ribbon event for dog fanciers, opens a three-day stand in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

This, the sixty-first Westminster show, will be the biggest in history. The entries will include the pick of kennels throughout Canada, the United States, Germany and England.

Strong Field Entered

CHICAGO, Feb. 9 (AP).—Crack riders from Canada, the United States, Holland, Belgium, Germany, France and Switzerland will compete in Chicago's thirty-seventh international six-day bicycle race at the Chicago Stadium, March 15-21, Harry Mendel, manager of the grind announced today.

Security Prices Close Lower at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP).—Buying forces met resistance in today's stock market and closing prices were notably uneven.

There were a few brisk flurries in both directions, but dealings were comparatively slow during the greater part of the session.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was off .1 of a point at 73. Transfers amounted to 2,590,450 shares, compared with 2,987,300 yesterday.

General Motors was under water all day, ending off 3-8 at 66 1-2, as peace negotiators in the strike recessed until the evening.

Profit-selling kept U.S. Steel in the background until the late Spring, when it equalled its post-depression peak of 102 1-4. It fell back just before the final gong to close at 101 5-8, off 1-4.

Chrysler, up 1 1-2 at 130 1-4, announced, also after the close, it was raising wages.

The bond market maintained a narrowly, irregular course with the trend lower in routine trading.

United States governments were mixed at from 1-16 lower to the same fraction higher.

The Associated Press average of twenty rails was down .2 of a point to 97.8.

Foreign obligations to gain narrowly included Columbian, Peruvian, Polish, Uruguayan, Cuban and Australian issues.

WHEAT PRICES CLOSE EASIER

Late Rally on Reports of U.S. Crop Damage Reduces Earlier Losses

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9 (CP).—Frost-damage reports from parts of the United States winter-wheat area inspired late rallies in wheat prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, enlivening a dull session and cutting in half earlier losses.

Values closed 1 1-8 to 3-4 cent lower, May at $1.28 1-4, July $1.23 3-8 and October $1.12 5-8.

Chicago reports told of wheat fields turning to sheets of ice and low temperatures prevailing over the Southwest.

A constructive factor was a decline in Canadian visible stocks of wheat for the week ended Feb. 5 to 97,796,951 bushels compared with 239,411,458 bushels at this time last year. Export sales were 500,000 bushels.

Coarse grains prices followed the trend of wheat. Cash grains continued inactive and little changed.

New Issue

We Offer Subject to Prior Sale:

750,000 Treasury Shares of York Oils Limited at 50 cents per share

To provide funds for the drilling of two wells on the Company's choice leases (160 acres in one block, the largest leases on the famous section 20 of the West Flank of Turner Valley).

From a letter addressed to us from the directors of York Oils Limited, we quote the following:

"York Oils control the largest and by many considered the choicest leases (160 acres) on structure in Section 20 on the West Flank of Turner Valley . . . The contract calls for drilling two wells immediately and shareholders will benefit from production from each of these wells and from all other wells which may be drilled on these leases at a future date . . . The drilling rights are held subject only to 10 per cent Royalty on the first 500 bbls. daily production with an additional 5 per cent on daily average in excess of 500 bbls. . . . It is considered almost an assured fact that barring mechanical difficulties wells drilled on these leases will come in as Crude Oil producers of importance and geological opinion is that the chances of bigger producers are probable in this section of the structure than on the Eastern Fringe where Turner Valley Royalties, B. & B. and Foundation Pete have brought such sensational returns . . . Contracts now are being negotiated with one of the major drilling companies for drilling the first two wells into the producing oil horizon and the estimated time for this to be completed five to nine months after spudding in . . .

"The management and directors of the Company are business men of good repute and experience and shareholders are assured of economic and efficient management of their Company."

Jane Dixon Says:

TODAY'S SUBJECT IS A PUZZLED GIRL WHO UNFORTUNATELY HAS CENTRED HER INTEREST ON A YOUNG MAN WITH A VERY DARK CLOUD OVER HIM

Dear Miss Dixon: It seems to me that my trouble is just a little different from any I've read in your column.

I met a boy who, for convenience, we will call "B." That was a year ago, and he dated my sister several times. He lives in a town where there are some boys we've known several years. At the time he called on my sister I thought nothing about him except as an acquaintance. Since then I have seen him only a few times until recently.

About a month after our first meeting I heard he had been forced to marry a girl whom he had known only two weeks. Immediately after their baby was born they separated, and each went to his and her respective homes. You understand that this is all "hearsay," as we live some distance apart and I have no proof that these things are all true, though everyone seems sure that they are.

Just recently a crowd of boys from this boy's town started visiting in my home, and this boy is always with them. He seems attracted to me, and I am beginning to realize that even though I am not yet in love with him, in time I could care a lot for him. I enjoy being with him more than I have ever enjoyed being in another boy's company. We are thrown together a great deal, and he begs me for a date, saying he is not married.

He claims that the whole story about the marriage is a made-up affair. I really don't believe him, for all his friends say he is a married man. I have always refused him a date, as it is against my principles to go with a married man. It has been rumored that his wife is suing for a divorce, but this may be false.

ALWAYS HAS A READY ANSWER

Now, this is my problem: Should I give him up altogether, or should I continue my friendship with him and go on seeing him when he comes to town as I have been doing?

Would it be better if I waited until he is divorced?

I have tried tricking him into admitting the whole affair, but he stands firm. He said he is coming to see me one night soon. If he does, how should I entertain him? Of course I will have to be hospitable and ask him into the house.

I am twenty. So is "B," though he seems much older.—Puzzled.

Answer: Too bad, my dear Puzzled, that your interest centred on a young man with such a dark cloud over and around him. But fortunately you are a young woman with a clean sense of reason and with enough mental balance to refrain from plunging into deep and dangerous waters.

Definitely, there is something very wrong with "B." If the story of his gun-wedding is true, he must have committed a very ugly crime against the girl he knew only two weeks, else he could never have been forced into marrying her. If it is true, he is a liar and a cheat as well as a creature without mercy, a man without honor, for he is trying to deceive you into believing he is worthy of a good girl's friendship.

HIS DEFENCE SEEMS WEAK

If the story is not true, then why in the name of all that's decent doesn't he face his maligners, force them to retract the hideous tale they have told on him so that he may stand before the world as one worthy of consideration—a gentleman?

Would any friend, any companion of a young man, much less a number of them, be wicked enough, cruel enough, to charge him with a moral crime of which he is not guilty?

It doesn't seem reasonable to suppose they would, does it, Puzzled? And most of all, your own instinct warns you he is not telling you the truth.

I believe he is married, and were I in your position I should make it my business to know the truth, if I had to make a secret visit to his town to discover it.

You might be able to find out something about it by writing to the marriage licence bureau in his town. Ask if a marriage licence was issued to him at the time you designate, and enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Make it your business to get in touch with someone of reliability in his town—the minister of a church, some public official. Tell them the exact situation and ask them to advise you of the exact status of the boy in his community.

I would not allow the young man to call on me or see him other than in a crowd until I was assured beyond question of doubt that he is not married. If you find he is married, I would not only refuse to see him now, but I would bar him from my friendship forever, for he then would be a deceiver and a trickster who would break your life as readily as he did that of the girl he denies.

SHIPPING NOW NEAR NORMAL

Pressure of Activity Which Marked End of Strike Is Lessening

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9 (AP).—Work along Pacific coast waterfronts gradually approaches normal today as the steady movement of ships and cargo lessened the pressure of activity which marked the end of the recent ninety-eight-day maritime strike.

A jurisdictional dispute involving longshoremen and ships' crews temporarily halted the working of some coastwise freighters, but negotiators intensified their efforts to iron out the post-strike difficulties.

Offshore ships steamed out of the several ports as rapidly as cargoes could be worked, relieving the crowded condition of the wharves.

First break of the jurisdictional issue arising after the lengthy and costly walkout came yesterday when men returned to work aboard a coastwise freighter at San Diego. Three ships at Portland and one at San Pedro remained tied up in the same dispute.

VESSEL STRIKE-BOUND

SEATTLE, Feb. 9 (AP).—The Canadian freighter Northolm was strikebound here today, longshoremen refusing to pass through picket lines established by the Inland Boatmen's Union of the Pacific, Dewey Bennett, International Longshoremen Association secretary, said.

The Northolm was virtually the only idle vessel in the harbor.

The boatmen's union claimed jurisdiction over the ship's non-union crew, establishing the picket lines with the termination of the strike.

CONSERVATIVES FORESEE TEST

Dr. Frank P. Patterson, Leader, Says Every Riding Will Be Contested

"The British Columbia Conservative party is expecting a general provincial election, and intends to contest every riding throughout British Columbia," Dr. Frank P. Patterson, provincial leader of the Conservatives, said yesterday on a flying visit to Victoria.

Dr. Patterson met R. A. Wootton, president of the British Columbia Conservative Association; R. D. Harvey, president of the Victoria association, and executive heads of the party here in private discussions centring around organization matters.

Conservatives, he said, were well organized, and would be ready throughout the province whenever the test was called at the polls.

VETERANS' GROUP ORGANIZES HERE

Imperials Body Establishes Temporary Headquarters at 2832 Rose Street

Temporary headquarters of the Imperial Veterans' Association, which is in the process of organization from coast to coast among the 200,000 Imperial veterans resident in Canada, have been established at 2832 Rose Street, in Victoria.

The new group does not duplicate or clash with any other veteran organization, its main objectives being pensions, social services and hospitalization. It is being formed to obtain for the veterans as far as possible the benefits which existing organizations now obtain for Canadian veterans, and to keep in touch with both the Imperial and Dominion Governments.

A general committee for Victoria and Vancouver Island, with power to add to its number, has been formed as the first step in the organization of the local branch. The initial meeting of this committee will be held on Tuesday, February 16, at 2832 Rose Street, when Major Mathisen, M.C., late King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry and first vice-president of the Vancouver branch, will speak.

British Officer Killed in India

PESHAWAR, Northern India, Feb. 9 (CP-Havas).—Lieutenant R. M. Beatty, British political agent in Waziristan, was trapped in an ambush near Boya yesterday and murdered by unidentified tribesmen.

He was the second British officer to be attacked in this manner in the last forty-eight hours. Yesterday Captain S. A. Keoch was wounded and his orderly killed in an ambush near Razmak.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

FITTING HEARING AIDS JUST AS GLASSES ARE FITTED

I find myself writing frequently about the deaf or those hard of hearing because to be hard of hearing means that one cannot be a part of any group or gathering, large or small. Thus the tendency to withdraw one's self from others, and to meditate upon the affliction is very great. The hard of hearing are very apt to become melancholy and depressed.

However, just as those whose eyesight is defective are able to have the amount of vision measured, and glasses prescribed that bring their vision up to or nearly up to normal, so also are some of the latest types of hearing aids able to restore a reasonable degree of hearing so that those hard of hearing can now become a part of their group of community.

This has been made possible by setting a unit of hearing, just as the eyesight is measured by using metres or feet as units.

The unit used to measure hearing is called the decibel, "which roughly represents the smallest increase in intensity that can be appreciated or detected by the normal ear." It is a "logarithmic" unit, that is ten decibels corresponds to a tenfold increase in sound intensity twenty to a hundredfold, and thirty to a thousandfold. The level of ordinary conversation is about fifty-five decibels.

The regular London correspondent of The Journal of the American Medical Association, reporting the paper of T. E. Carpthorne at a joint meeting of the ear specialists and throat specialists of the Royal Society of Medicine, states:

"The method of estimating hearing capacity both for speech and for pure tones lends itself to accurate reproduction so that improvement with an aid can be measured. The audiometer (machine used to measure degree of hearing) has the advantage over the tuning fork that its output can be raised, kept constant or increased at will and is susceptible of accurate measurement. It is far quicker and far more accurate than the tuning fork for measuring hearing capacity or ability for pure tones. A hearing aid department should be essential to every well-equipped hearing clinic."

This would mean that a patient could have his hearing tested as he now has his eyesight tested and a preparation given him to take to a hearing-aid store where a competent dealer or assistant can fit him with the correct hearing aid he needs.

A new soap was being put upon the market by a firm of perfume makers and the manufacturers organized a competition offering a prize for the best slogan advertising their latest product.

When the judging began the following came to light: "If you don't use our soap, for heaven's sake use our perfume."

PAUL ROBESON IS AT ATLAS TODAY

Appears in British-Lion Hammer Production, "The Song of Freedom"

Coming to the Atlas Theatre today is the latest Paul Robeson starring film production, "The Song of Freedom," produced by British-Lion Hammer and directed by J. Elder Wills.

The story, written by Major Claude Wallace, noted African explorer, and Dorothy Holloway, is a poignant and thrilling one of a Negro who longs to return to the birthplace of his ancestors before they were snatched away by the slave traders centuries before.

Robeson's voice has never been in finer fettle. He has four songs specially written for him by Eric Ansell. Supporting him is an enormous cast of both black and white artists, the featured players including Elizabeth Welch, Joan Fred Emney, Esme Percy, George Mozart and Jenny Dean.

CAPITOL THEATRE The screen's most famous soldier-of-fortune, handsome Gary Cooper, who has fought in about every army ever filmed, enacts the role of one of the most famous of all soldiers-of-fortune in history, in Cecil B. DeMille's saga of the West, "The Plainsman," currently showing at the Capitol Theatre. The lovely Jean Arthur is co-starred.

OAK BAY THEATRE Kimberley at the time of the discovery of diamonds has been rebuilt for "Rhodes," the stirring drama starring Walter Huston at the Oak Bay Theatre for the last times today. This G.B. production shows how real he-men dug for diamonds in the gilt-edged earth, staked their claims, and fought to the death to hold them against the onslaught of fortune-seekers.

ALL-GIRL UNIT PROVES POPULAR

Major Bowes' Feminine Stars Open at Empire Theatre With Matinee Today

Commencing today with a matinee at 2:30, Major Bowes' new unit of radio prize-winning amateurs opens a two-day engagement at the Empire Theatre, presenting what is acclaimed by both press and public as the greatest and newest aggregation of all-girl radio prize-winning stars that has ever been the good fortune of Major Bowes to assemble into grand stage presentation.

Featured in this production is Sophie Coyne, last week's winner, appearing on Major Bowes' radio hour in New York, and such well-known winners as the Van Zandt Sisters, Sara Berner, Starlight Dixie Trio, Helen Diller, Jill Dennett, Frances White, Ann Palmer, Lily Turner and the Tri-City Trio.

Two performances will be given tonight at 7:15 and 9 o'clock and three performances tomorrow. Don't fail to see this talented group of radio stars, as this will positively be their first and only appearance in Victoria.

WEAVER BROTHERS AND ELVIRY HERE FRIDAY

The homespun humor that America has labeled as "tops" comes to the Capitol Theatre on Friday for two days, and the famous Weaver Brothers and Elviry and their entire troupe of twenty-five "Arkansaw Travelers" at their dizziest.

One of vaudeville's most famous "families," the Weaver Brothers and Elviry have for many years remained as the leading exponent of rural entertainment and philosophy. Their act, the talks provided by Abner and Elviry, who is known as the "stubbornest, contrary critter alive," provides hilarious fun.

The forthcoming appearance of the Weaver Brothers and Elviry will mark their first visit to the Northwest in five years.

On the screen will be the jolly comedy featured, "Mind Your Own Business," starring Charlie Ruggles and Alice Brady.

What Today Means

"AQUARIUS"

If February 10 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:45 to 10:45 a.m., from 1:45 to 3:45 p.m. and from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 6:45 to 8:45 a.m., from 5:45 to 7:45 p.m. and from 9:45 to 11:45 p.m.

There will be a lot of nonsensical talk taken seriously this day, so be careful how you joke. Influences conducive to promises being broken are likely to prevail, causing most of this day's quarrels, so keep any you have made, particularly if it involves taking someone to some place. Do not ignore any social obligation, or you will find yourself in hot water. This is liable to be a poor day to depend too much on transportation facilities, which probably will be interrupted by numerous causes. If you are wise allow yourself a good margin of time for unforeseen delays. This day is a good one for you not to try to regulate strangers' behavior, if you wish to keep from being insulted. Try not to express yourself forcibly in any public place, for this will be another source of trouble. Married and engaged couples, as well as those expecting to become bethrothed, will show good judgment if they do not oppose, without ample justification, any suggestions offered for the day's entertainment.

If a woman and February 10 is your natal day, you perhaps are inclined to be somewhat of a tease. Your ready tongue and good humor should make you much sought after. The chances are you will have something done for you, unexpectedly, that will bring a great deal of happiness into your life. You seem destined to become a leader in either social or commercial life. There is a possibility of your having confided to you an important secret. Under no condition violate any confidence, for there is danger in your talking too freely about other people's affairs. As a hostess, business manager, writer, advertising, insurance, real estate agent or trained nurse your future ought to be very bright. Your matrimonial ambitions in all likelihood will be realized.

The child born on February 10 usually, from the time it enters school, has a happy faculty of making itself popular. Its personality, rather than its actual efforts, may be responsible for its future success.

If a man and February 10 is your birthday, your ability to be unswerving in your conception of your duty ought to make you eminently successful. Among the activities that are most likely to bring you fame are the legal, medical, literary, naval, military or theatrical professions.

The diner was feeling in kindly mood after being driven home in a taxi. As he paid the fare, he searched through his notecase for a new one-dollar bill.

"I suppose," he said to the driver, "you would rather have clean money?"

"Don't you worry yourself, sir," replied the man. "I ain't particular how you made it."

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"GOOD-BYE!"

We only part to meet again, but meanwhile, we say, "Good-bye!"

Possibly one of the most tender as it is one of the commonest phrases in our language, "Good-bye" is a casualty of casualness, a thing of beauty rendered ordinary and unglamorous through thoughtless overwork.

It has, for which let us be grateful, its moments, occasions when it fulfills its destiny, when it is intended for what it imports—a prayer that the Almighty attend and protect those we are bidding farewell.

"Good-bye" is a contraction of "God be with ye."

Mrs. O'Hara—What! You're going to sell up and marry that hard-up lodger of yours? What on earth are you going to live on?

Mrs. Mulligan—Begorra, we'll be all right. The poor fellow owes me enough to keep us in comfort for years.
